

WASHINGTON WATCHES CUBAN CRISIS

MINE OWNERS
AID PROGRESS
OF COAL CODERETAILER CHARTER
WILL BE READY
NEXT WEEK

BY JAMES P. SELVAGE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—A near-crisis in the administration's effort to fasten an NRA code upon the bituminous coal industry was bridged tonight with indications that both Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, and spokesmen for the mine owners had made concessions in a new step toward agreement.

Angry, Johnson faced four of the operators in a three-hour conference after receiving a biting letter of condemnation of the code which he handed down yesterday with the ultimatum that it would be promulgated early next week with few changes.

Contracts Resumed

At the end, the quarrel emerged, smiling, and the administrator said he hoped still for a charter next week with a general agreement from the industry. He added, however, that the public hearing had set for Monday afternoon might be postponed 24 hours to give the mine owners more time to study the most comprehensive code yet written at the recovery administration.

Johnson said that as a result of the conference, negotiations on union contracts for Appalachian commercial mines suspended today, would be resumed.

The letter from the operators, drafted after a general meeting early in the day, precipitated what Johnson described as a very delicate situation. Although the operators had been given until tomorrow to file exceptions to the code, the letter, in effect, said there were too many objections to attempt implementation.

Ran Price Cutting

Arthur D. Whiteside, a deputy administrator, was completing the draft of a charter for retailers, containing ample provision for regulating prices and preventing sales below cost.

Whiteside was understood to be drafting his final report to Johnson and officials expected the charter, designed to reach several million workers to be ready for President Roosevelt early next week.

While the deputy was keeping the provisions of the code carefully guarded, it was understood still to contain a ban against ruthless price-cutting, and to prescribe strict trade practices and advertising rules.

Johnson reiterated to newsmen that he had no evidence Henry Ford's plants were violating the automobile code now in effect, but added that "if Mr. Ford comes out with an outright violation I'll have to act—with a challenge like that we'd have to have a showdown."

"I couldn't allow a man as big as that to stand out and defy this government," the administrator said. "I'd have to make a showdown. If he violates this code he's violating a law of the United States. But I haven't seen enough indication of violation to start an inquisitorial process."

"In one sense Mr. Ford has put himself at war with this whole

$1,250,000 LOVE

Flora Todd Mitchell, above, New York playwright, is single again and her two former husbands have withdrawn suits aggregating $1,250,000 that they filed against each other in one of the most unusual cases on record. Mrs. Mitchell, a widow, divorced Leon Leonidoff, Russian ballet master, and wed Seymour Wollner, wealthy resident of Peoria, Ill., next day. Leonidoff sued Wollner for $500,000 and Wollner countered with a suit against Leonidoff for $750,000. Now she has divorced Wollner at Peoria.

RULER OF IRAQ
DIES SUDDENLYSet Up Desert Kingdom
With Lawrence of Arabia

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 8 (AP)—Far from the desert kingdom which he won by the sword and his political skill in company with the famed Lawrence of Arabia, scholarly King Faisal of Iraq died suddenly early today of a heart attack in his hotel here. He was 48.

He returned here only a few days ago from Baghdad, his capital, after interrupting a course of treatment to travel to London for conferences in connection with Assyrian troubles in his country. Six hundred Assyrian Christians were reported killed in disorders in which Iraq troops and Kurds participated.

Fought Turks

In recognition of his war service, Great Britain, the former Iraq mandatory power, will transfer the body by destroyer from Genoa, Italy, to Alexandria, Egypt, and thence by airplane to Baghdad.

The king died in bed, in sharp contrast with his romantic life in the desert of Arabia, where he

DENIES EMBEZZLEMENT

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 8 (AP)—Benjamin Mehl, 35, employed in a Big Rapids drug store which also is a postal sub-station, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of embezzling $261.64 in money orders and $48.09 in cash from sub-station funds. He was arraigned on a federal indictment and held under $1,000 bond for trial.

Wanted Car, Four Youths
Held For Brutal Murder

Detroit, Sept. 8 (AP)—Four young men who said they "wanted a car" were facing murder charges tonight for the brutal slaying on a lonely Macomb county road of Joseph Nesbitt, 45-year-old auto sales manager who was kidnapped within sight of his wife and stepdaughter in Detroit Thursday night.

Nesbitt, dying from four bullet wounds, was found in a ditch in Macomb county at 1 a. m. today. Three hours later he died, and at about the same time Robert Frazer, alias Razo, 26, Robert Buffa, 24, of Detroit; Douglas Whitsitt, 21, of Toronto; and Charles Davidson, 23, of Port Huron, were arrested in Detroit in Nesbitt's automobile.

Frazer, police said, admitted he shot Nesbitt after robbing him of $87. He said he "didn't know

RELIEF IS UP TO INDIVIDUAL,
LEADERS TOLDPRESIDENT APPEALS FOR LOOSENING OF
PURSE STRINGS

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—Asserting that he looked upon government relief work as of an emergency type, President Roosevelt today told a human needs conference that the duty in the end would be restored to "individual citizens, to individual responsibility, to private organizations."

"We are going to have unemployed throughout the United States and we know it," he said. "I hope though the time is going to come soon when everybody who normally wants a permanent job is going to get it. And so I like to think of government relief of all kinds as emergency relief."

No Shirkings

The president appealed to the nation to loosen its purse strings to help care for the destitute this winter.

To delegates attending the third annual mobilization for human needs conference, Mr. Roosevelt criticized areas "coming hat in hand" to the government without doing their own relief share.

"There have been states which have not done their share," the chief executive said, "states where the problems of relief have gotten mixed up with political; legislatures that are thinking in political and not in human terms."

"There are municipalities which are going ahead with the spending of taxes for political purposes and then find they haven't any money left for relief purposes."

"I am glad to say that those individual cases are diminishing in number because the people of this country understand it and are telling the government bodies, local or state, that they have got to 'play ball' and not shirk."

LOANS PLANNED
FOR RAILROADSPurchase of Steel Rails
Awaits Reduction in Price Rates

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt is ready to give the railroads a loan from the public works funds for the purchase of steel rails as soon as the price is reduced by the steel industry.

The proposal has received the favor of the carriers but the administration still must talk to the steel leaders about cutting the rates on the rails which the government contends have been maintained at a high level while other prices were falling.

A report from the interstate commerce commission complaining against the rail prices has been referred to the department of justice but there is no indication that the government is going to take any legal action.

This is a new use for the public works funds which the president intends to restrict henceforth to construction of self-liquidating propositions.

U. S. Seaplanes Set
New Distance MarkBY JOHN F. CHESTER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—Word was flashed to the navy department tonight of the safe landing at Coco Solo, Canal Zone, of six naval seaplanes after a 2,059 mile non-stop flight from Norfolk, Va.—completing the longest non-stop mass formation flight in history.

Battling successfully through a gale, five of the ships landed safely at the canal at 6:25 p. m. The sixth plane was nearly an hour behind.

The main body of the fleet completed the flight in exactly 24 hours and 55 minutes. The take-off from Norfolk was at 5:30 last night.

The sixth ship, P-12, under Lieut. W. H. Buracker of Winchester, Mass., fell behind the others during the afternoon. Engine trouble was reported to have slowed it down, but did not force a landing before Coco Solo was reached.

The air fleet passed over Cuba shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, cutting straight across the island now in revolution, from a point not far to the east of Havana.

Bold direction on the part of Lieut. Commander D. M. Carpenter, flight commander, aided in the success of the record-smashing effort.

The usual course after passing Grand Cayman, 160 miles beyond Cuba, would have swerved the ships westward toward the Honduras coast to follow the curving shore line to the canal.

The fleet, however, despite heavy storms ahead over the Caribbean, continued straight on for a jump of more than 800 miles over the open sea. Hours of flying were saved by following the more dangerous route.

Naval officials, in compiling figures to show the flight was the longest such movement ever made, said that General Italo Balbo, air marshal of Italy, had made one jump with his air fleet of 1,864 miles during a flight to Brazil in 1931.

Balbo's longest mass flight during his recent trip to the United States was one of 1,677. It came on the jump from Shoals Harbor, N. F., to the Azores on the return trip and involved 25 planes.

Explaining that under the state's contract with the group of business men conducting this year's air, it has the option of resuming active management next year, Metzger said that both he and Governor William A. He also said that there would be "liberal appropriations" available for county fairs next year. Asserting that the value of county fairs to agriculture is unquestioned, he said that "money from racing will be ample for us to assume a generous policy."

The Michigan Agricultural and Industrial Fair, now in progress in Detroit, backed by business men, has drawn considerably larger crowds than the State Fair of last year.

Midland, Mich., Sept. 8 (AP)—A shift in the wind from the southwest to the east gave weary fire fighters a respite tonight in their efforts to keep an extensive brush blaze and forest fire from the Greendale oil field.

The lull in the flames gave the men time to consolidate their fire lines by plowing around the burned area, the leaders of the fight were hopeful that they could bring the fire definitely under control.

Russell Martin, of Gladwin, district conservation officer, said that the lifting of the crisis probably would enable him to get by tomorrow with only 300 men instead of the 1,000 he had thought earlier in the night he would need.

The fire, which the officers suspect to be of incendiary origin, burned a point near 40 wells in Detroit, back by business men, has drawn considerably larger crowds than the State Fair of last year.

Herkimer, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Henry Marcus Quackenbush, inventor of the nut pick, died today at the age of 86.

Almost until his death the aged inventor continued his research in factory buildings erected on the site of his father's barn. He invariably rode a bicycle from his home, three miles away, to his laboratory.

He also had invented various types of bicycles, air rifles and mechanical appliances.

Detroit, Sept. 8 (AP)—A September hot weather record that had not been challenged for nearly 50 years was equaled this afternoon when the official thermometer registered 97 degrees.

Ventnor, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, militant reformer of the nineties, who twice drove the Tammany tiger from New York's City Hall, was killed in a fall early today as he walked in his sleep.

The 91-year-old Presbyterian preacher, who had retained in his twilight years the vigor of speech that characterized his utterances in middle age, fell about fifteen feet from a second floor window in the home of his nephew, Winthrop Parkhurst. He died in Atlantic City hospital.

BLANKS SENT

AGE PENSIONCOLLECTION OF $2
HEAD TAX IS FIRST STEP

Lansing, Sept. 8 (AP)—The opening gesture toward enforcing Michigan's old age pension law came today with the announcement by Miss Evelyn Morashon, state welfare director, that registration forms had been dispatched to county clerks.

In notices mailed to the counties, the welfare department has extended the statutory date of registering taxable adults from October 17 to November 15. The welfare director indicated the aid of the state will be sought in meeting early administration costs. An application will go forward shortly, Miss Morashon said, for a release of $35,000 for that purpose by the state administrative board.

May Be Changed

Miss Morashon's decision calling for November registration reverses the policy of her predecessor, William S. Carpenter, who said no effort would be made to enforce the law this year. The former welfare director declared that changes were necessary in the pension law before it would be workable. He suggested that amendments be made at a special session of the legislature.

The welfare department announced that application blanks for beneficiaries of the pension would be available November 15 in the various counties but that hearings on the applications would not begin until January 1.

Whether a definite effort will be made this year to enforce the new statute beyond actual registration of those eligible to pay the

FOUR BALLOONS
STILL MISSINGSouthern Lake Michigan
Patrolled for Girl and Autogyro

(By The Associated Press)

Rescuers pushed a search over a wide area last night for four balloonists missing since the start of the Gordon Bennett races in Chicago Saturday and for a girl and two men aviators believed lost in an autogyro over Lake Michigan.

The missing balloonists were the famous Ward Van Orman and his aide, Frank A. Trotter, in the American ship, and the crew of the Polish gas bag, Capt. Franciszek Hynek and Lieut. Zbigniew Burzynski, war heroes.

A search for them by aviators, boats and land crews was unavailable. Many held a belief the balloonists had been blown out over the Atlantic or were down in some isolated spot and unable to communicate with the outside world.

Air and water craft meanwhile patrolled southern Lake Michigan in search of Miss Majenta Girard, 22-year-old River Forest, Ill., girl who left Chicago 48 hours previously in an autogyro with H. W. Manning and Carl Otto for a flight over the lake.

Harlingen, Tex., Sept. 8 (AP)—A moderate rise rolling down the Rio Grande threatened today to inundate lowlands and fill the flood control system of the lower valley, which was swept by a hurricane Monday and Tuesday.

Fed by the San Juan river, which carried away torrential rains at Monterrey, Mexico, the Rio Grande rose slowly from Rio Grande city, where the San Juan joins it, to Hidalgo, 40 miles away, and at Mission the water went into a floodway.

The only danger to Brownsville and other cities on the river, however, appeared to be in a possible levee break, the flood control system being considered capable of handling even an abnormal rise. Workmen were sent to guard against any such breaks.

The river was four miles wide at Los Anabos and Pentas and flooded several small Mexican communities on the south side of the international boundary.

The death list in the hurricane rose to 24 today with the finding of two additional bodies at Matamoros, Mexico. The injured totaled 500 but few were seriously hurt. One hundred of those casualties were treated at Brownsville and several hundred more here.

NUDISTS FIGHT COURT CHARGE

Indictments of inmates in Allegan Cult May Be Quashed

Allegan, Mich., Sept. 8 (AP)—There were indications tonight that Prosecutor Welborne S. Luna would move tomorrow to quash a blanket indictment charging the proprietors and 17 inmates of a nudist colony near here with indecent exposure, substituting a warrant making only the camp proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Ring, of Kalamazoo, defendants.

The warrant has been served on Mr. and Mrs. Ring, and the others have been instructed to report in court here tomorrow.

Prosecutor Luna tonight made public the names on the warrant. They were: Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Weller; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Mischeke; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Horn; Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Murray and A. E. Tarlow, all listed as from Chicago, and the following for whom no addresses were given: Mr. and Mrs. A. Klein; Albert Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Deascher, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Toms and Harry Cole.

The prosecutor previously had said that the colonists were mostly from Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor and Chicago.

The prosecutor was sworn to by Sheriff Fred Miller, who led a raid on the camp last Monday. Mrs. M. P. Angier, who has property adjoining the camp, is listed as a witness.

Clare E. Ebmhoffman, attorney for the Rings, said he would contend that there had been no indecency and that the prosecution is in violation of the personal liberties of the defendants.

Steps Are Taken To Prepare Tax Setup On Liquor

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt directed a special committee of the treasury today to study whether new liquor tax legislation would be necessary under repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Confident that repeal of the prohibition amendment is only a matter of time, the chief executive directed the committee headed by Undersecretary Acheson to study the relation of federal and state taxes on liquor and the question of import duties on foreign brands.

Pending this study Mr. Roosevelt is uncertain whether additional legislation will be necessary. There is a strong prospect that the Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed before the first of the year when congress meets, as 25 states already have voted to void it and more than a dozen others are scheduled to vote within the next few weeks.

Bailey Mistreated In Jail, Attorney For Escaper Says

Oklahoma City, Sept. 8 (AP)—Counsel for Harvey Bailey, south-western desperado held in jail here awaiting trial for the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, asserted today the prisoner was being subjected to "cruel and inhuman treatment."

James H. Mathers, veteran criminal lawyer, said he would ask a writ to bring Bailey into federal court Saturday "so that his wounds may be exhibited to the court."

Mathers alleged that Bailey is held in a dark cell in solitary confinement and is "shackled, handcuffed and both hands and feet chained."

Bailey is not permitted to wear any clothing except underwear, the lawyer said, "and is required to sit and lie in a cramped position and stationary." Mathers also protested that "seven machine guns" are trained on Bailey's cell.

The attorney said he would ask Federal Judge Edgar C. Vaughn to order better treatment for the prisoner and to suspend the practice of searching his cell "every hour and at night."

Bailey escaped from jail at Dallas, Tex., last Monday, was recaptured at Ardmore and then brought here.

Cotton Declines; 1933 Crop Heavy

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—A government prediction that the 1933 cotton crop would be 12,414,000 bales today disclosed that southern weather was continuing to checkmate the farm administration's effort to make a sizeable dent in the cotton surplus.

The forecast today was 100,000 bales higher than the estimate on August 8, and cotton declined further from the parity price which the farm administration has set as its goal for the staple.

The carry-over of cotton in the United States on August 1, was 8,170,000 bales as compared to the ten-year average carry-over of only 3,626,000 bales.

Bailey Associate Killed At Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 8 (AP)—James "Frankie" Tribble, 32, former convict described by police as an erstwhile associate of the imprisoned Harvey Bailey, notorious outlaw, was shot and killed today after he and two others reputedly terrorized headquarters of the Chicago Teamsters' Union.

The body was found in the corridor outside a doctor's office at 1614 West Roosevelt road.

Expert Is Witness In Lamson Defense

Courthouse, San Jose, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—The supreme effort of David A. Lamson's defense forces to cast doubt upon the state's charge that he killed his attractive wife Allene with an iron pipe began here late today with the calling of Dr. E. O. Heinrich, criminologist, to the witness stand.

The exact trend of his testimony was not apparent when the court adjourned until next Monday morning.

However, his reference to tests of charred blood, to the means of distinguishing human blood from that of other creatures and his assertion that an instrument used to scrape away spots of blood and then substances not of blood might mix the constituents to the point of confusion indicated a possible attack on the testimony of Dr. Frederick Proeschner, state witness.

Sunday Son Near Death, Insists He Fell Out Window

San Francisco, Sept. 8 (AP)—Near death in a hospital here, George M. Sunday, son of the famous evangelist, William A. (Billy) Sunday, still insisted today he had fallen and not leaped from the fourth floor of his apartment here last night.

His wife, the former Maureen Reichard of Hollywood, who married him in 1931 following a divorce from his first wife, told police of a violent scene yesterday in which her husband struck her in the eye and broke her finger, then threatened suicide.

Sunday could not talk today because of a broken jaw, but scribbled a note. It read:

"I lost my balance and fell out. I had no argument. I had not been drinking."

Sunday suffered fractures of the left leg, both jaws, thigh and kneecap, severe lacerations of the face and head, and possible concussion of the brain. Physicians said he had a chance for recovery.

Prince Knud Weds Amid Red Disorder

Fredensborg, Denmark, Sept. 8 (AP)—Prince Knud, 33-year-old younger son of King Christian, and Princess Caroline Mathilde, his cousin, were married tonight at the Royal chapel as a strong guard was posted to ward off any demonstrations.

The precautions were taken after decorations on the streets had been torn down during the night, allegedly by Communists. Troops and detectives were detailed throughout the village as nobility arrived to witness the wedding ceremony.

The engagement of the couple at first was said to have been opposed by Caroline Mathilde's mother, Princess Helena, because of their near relationship. Capital residents, however, were pleased.

Bodies Of Mountain Climbers Are Found

Portland, Ore., Sept. 8 (AP)—Three daring men who essayed to climb the precipitous cliffs and cross the ice fields of towering Mount Jefferson have met death in their attempt. The bodies were found late today.

The men disappeared Labor Day during a blinding snowstorm. Searchers exploring the crevasses about the Bergschrund or White-water glacier, a point a few hundred feet below the summit of the 10,500 foot peak, came upon the huddled bodies of Davis McCann, Don Burkhardt and John Thomas, all of Portland, on a crevasse.

New Rates Filed By Detroit Edison

Lansing, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Detroit Edison company today formally filed a proposed rate schedule with the state public utilities commission reducing its revenue about $800,000 a year.

The proposal was submitted as a counter move to the commission's recent order directing the company to reduce its rates by $1,500,000 annually. The commission indicated it would tentatively approve the company's approval, pending the outcome of litigation.

movement. He's been given a lot of publicity for the fact that he is not taking part."

NO FORD "FIGHT"

Detroit, Sept. 8 (AP)—There will be no "fight to the finish" between the Ford Motor Co. and the National Recovery Administration, it was learned from an authoritative source today, because the Ford company feels it is complying with the code and there is nothing to fight about.

"The code doesn't have to be signed in order to comply with its terms," was the statement. "Nobody has to sign anything as long as they observe the provisions of the NRA."

Perhaps Henry Ford will sign the code, perhaps he won't. Ford alone knows that. But whether or not he does, at the company's plant today it was said entire compliance with the recovery act is possible without Ford's signature "on the dotted line."

This was not Ford's own statement, but, coming from a high source, it was representative as being the opinion of the Ford company since the inception of the National Recovery Act.

Spanish Cabinet Group Collapses

Madrid, Sept. 8 (AP)—The government of Premier Manuel Azana collapsed today under the load of reverses in last Sunday's election for members of a tribunal of constitutional guarantees and the gradual disintegration of the party supporting the government, especially the Radical Socialists and the Federals.

President Niceto Alcalá Zamora immediately began conferences with a number of government leaders. The first called in was Julian Besteiro, president of the legislative assembly.

Soon after the cabinet resigned, Azana, who was minister of war as well as premier, revealed in a statement that the position of the government became critical at yesterday's cabinet meeting.

Waterway Treaty Ratification Drive Starts October 19

Milwaukee, Sept. 7 (AP)—Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, as president of the Great Lakes Harbors association, today announced a drive for the ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway treaty will be initiated at a meeting in Detroit, Oct. 19 and 20.

Issuing a call for the conference, Mayor Hoan said that an appeal is being made "to close ranks to fight for ratification of the seaway treaty in the next session of the United States senate."

Invitations are addressed to mayors, harbor commissioners and other officials of port cities and to numerous civic organizations. Several cities of upstate New York will be represented.

United States Senators La Follette and Duffy of Wisconsin, Vandenberg and Coughens of Michigan, have been asked to address the sessions.

West Loses Lure For CCC Workers

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 8 (AP)—The timbered west has lost its lure for some 4,500 of the 6,500 eastern members of the Civilian Conservation Corps and they want to return home.

Seventy-five per cent of the eastern recruits in this region asked for discharges at the expiration of the first six months period, while the other 2,000 have indicated willingness to re-enroll. Major George Clark, commandant, said today.

PRINCESS TO WED?

London, Sept. 8 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Amsterdam, Holland, said it was rumored there the engagement of Princess Juliana, possibly to an Englishman, will be announced Saturday.

The San Francisco Bay Air-drome is clearing a house for more than 25 per cent of all air express flown in the United States in 1932.

Officials of any airline receiving government subsidy are limited to a salary of $175,000.

FIRE CAMPAIGN WEEK OCT. 8-14

Proclamation Issued By Comstock Calls for Prevention

Lansing, Sept. 7 (AP)—Governor Comstock referred today to the forest fires of the past week in urging citizens to observe fire prevention week October 8-14. His proclamation follows:

"Michigan again experiences disaster and devastation by forest fires. Their recurrence year after year tends to stay the hand of man in his effort to rebuild the forest wealth and splendor of the past. It is most distressing to contemplate that sheer carelessness plays a large part in bringing about such great destruction and suffering."

"Although the public expends large sums annually to stop fires once started, an set aside as fire prevention week, individuals fail to respond to their responsibility, and frequently by thoughtlessly discarding lighted matches or cigarettes or by abandoning lighted camp fires in the north country, leave in their wake untold misfortune for others."

"In man alone is reposed the power of control of fire, the most potent of the advancement of civilization has depended upon the judicious use of this force, yet it not vigilantly employed. It turns upon the works of its master with incalculable destructive consequences."

Exemptions Given Schools, Hospitals From NRA Rulings

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—Exemption from the provisions of the recovery act for non-profit institutions supported by public subscriptions such as schools and hospitals was authorized today by the NRA.

The ruling, approved by Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, said: "That schools, colleges, universities, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions supported by public subscriptions, not operated for profit, except so far as they may be engaged in the operation of trade or industry, need not come under the provisions of the National Recovery Act."

"This does not mean that they should not voluntarily meet so far as possible the specifications of the President's agreement and cooperate with the President in every way to hasten National Recovery."

Having received orders from Glencio Batista, who led the revolutionary movement, to return to their posts before tomorrow at 11 a. m., the officers gathered to talk things over.

Most of the officers, still unbending in their refusal to return to their posts, remained in the hotel tonight, although some had returned to their homes.

They were free in their statements that they were prepared to sell their lives dearly if efforts were made to arrest them or return them at the points of pistols, as they charged, two officers had been returned.

England Mourning Lord Grey's Death

Christon Bank, England, Sept. 7 (AP)—All England today mourned Lord Grey of Fallodon, former foreign secretary, who died early this morning at the age of 71 after being seriously ill for a week.

The little telegraph office near Fallodon, the late viscount's beautiful home on the Northumbrian coast, bore witness to the worldwide esteem in which he was held. Tributes streamed in all day from all parts of the world.

A memorial service will be held at Embleton parish church and in Newcastle cathedral on Saturday and the body will be cremated at Darlington on the same day.

As Lord Grey was understood to have left definite instructions regarding disposal of his ashes and his family regard it as a purely private matter, no indications were given as to where the ashes would be placed.

HEARING POSTPONED

Chicago, Sept. 8 (AP)—Attorneys agreed today to postpone until Sept. 27 a hearing on charges that John T. Martin of Chicago, Kas., received stolen property, a charge based on the alleged swindle of $5,000 Kansas Building and Loan Association stock from Carlton M. Chapman of Grand Rapids, Mich. He was arrested Saturday as he tried to sell the bonds at a broker's age.

OFFICIALS SEE GRAVE DANGER IN CONDITIONS

The Cuban revolution which overturned the government bloodlessly by means of the power of the army under sergeants and corporals still was not understood clearly in official quarters here. One element of mystery arose from unverified reports of "Communist" elements in the movement.

It appeared to observers that the junta of five men set up after the coup had no particular control and that the army, well disciplined as it was, did not rely on itself but that someone was pulling the strings, but the identity of these individuals, if any, had not been determined.

RY J. P. MCKNIGHT

(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Havana, Sept. 8 (AP)—Three hundred Cuban army officers ousted by their troop Monday were held virtual prisoners tonight in the Hotel Nacional, diverting attention from attempts of the executive commission to select a new president of Cuba. Machine guns were trained on the hotel, where the officers were held, and all automobiles approaching it were searched.

Bedlam reigned for a time in the hotel lobby as officers, ABE members and students, many of them armed with rifles and pistols, created general uproar that finally quieted, bringing a sigh of relief from the city.

De Céspedes Rejected

The developments reached a climax shortly after the cruiser Indianapolis had steamed from the harbor with Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson, who remained in the port two hours without coming ashore. He was enroute to Panama and the West Coast.

Sergio Carbo, member of the junta which has assumed control of Cuban affairs, earlier had stated the executive commission was inclined to form a coalition cabinet "with representatives of all the opposition sectors that have cooperated with us in our revolutionary work."

This followed a flat refusal to accede to a proposal that Manuel De Céspedes be reinstated as president. A commission set up to reconcile various political views met in secret to study "the nation's problems."

All Ousted Officers

The disturbance in the hotel was preceded by a gathering of officers including Secretary of War Horatio Ferrer, and Julio Sangulini, acting chief of staff, all of whom were ousted when their men rose against them to substitute the junta for the De Céspedes government.

Having received orders from Glencio Batista, who led the revolutionary movement, to return to their posts before tomorrow at 11 a. m., the officers gathered to talk things over.

Most of the officers, still unbending in their refusal to return to their posts, remained in the hotel tonight, although some had returned to their homes.

They were free in their statements that they were prepared to sell their lives dearly if efforts were made to arrest them or return them at the points of pistols, as they charged, two officers had been returned.

A few officers had gone back to duty, it was said, but Commissioner Carbo expressed optimism that the problem would be solved by tomorrow.

CUT IN COTTON CROP OUTLINED

Program Laid Out for 1934-35, Approved By Roosevelt

(Copyright 1933, By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 8 (AP)—A cotton production control program for 1934 and 1935 has been approved by President Roosevelt and its outlines are expected to be announced tomorrow or early next week by Secretary Wallace.

Two main features of the plan include crop reduction for next year to around 25,000,000 acres, and a virtual guarantee of parity price to the grower on a portion of his cotton.

This guarantee, as applied to each cotton producing county, would be almost half its production over the five year average from 1928 through 1932, since the domestic consumption of the entire production in the five years approached one half.

The farm adjustment administration hopes the announcement that it is going ahead in its effort to adjust cotton production to demand will result in a rise in prices this year.

The emergency cotton reduction campaign this year took more than 19,000,000 acres out of production but unusually favorable weather for cotton has resulted in a forecast of a 12,414,000 bale crop.

charity chests, and reminding the people, that the government alone can not carry the burden. Frank B. Kellogg, a former Republican secretary of state, said the main obstacle to its work was the belief the government would supply relief funds.

"Nothing is further from the fact," Kellogg said, "The aid rendered by the federal government and the state and local governments is limited in its scope and does not and can not cover the ground which the private organizations must carry on."

In the same vein, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The government can not get along without you. The federal, state, and local governments can't. The whole period we are going through will come back in the end to individual citizens, to individual responsibility, to private organizations, through the years to come."

"Your work has a two-fold purpose. You are meeting the emergency and at the same time you are building for the future. Community chests are going to keep on just as long as any of us are alive—and a mighty good thing they are to."

"So—go to it—and make a record not only of money but a record of service of which we shall all be very proud."

fought daily with the Turks during the World war in leading a handful of warriors on perilous exploits.

King Faisal, the son of Sharif Husain and a descendant of Fatimah, the only surviving child of the Prophet, was born at Taif in 1885.

He was educated in Istanbul, where he lived 18 years as a student and as a Turkish government official.

When only seven days old he was taken among the tribesmen, where he lived until he was seven. He set out for Istanbul in 1893 to secure a private education.

At the outbreak of the World war he was at Mecca, the starting point of a prominent part in the Arab revolt in which he joined forces with General Allenby in a campaign which culminated in the capture of Aleppo in October, 1918.

After his Great war his campaign, with the assistance of Lawrence of Arabia (T. E. Lawrence), finally resulted in the setting up from the wreck of the Turkish empire the kingdom of Syria in March, 1920, but was deposed when he failed to recognize the rights of France, the mandatory power. He was elected king of Iraq, Aug. 30, 1921, in a plebiscite in which he received 96 per cent of the votes.

The king was married in 1906 to Sharifa Huzayma, the daughter of his uncle. One son, the Crown Prince Emir Ghazi, and three daughters, the Princesses Asa, Rajia, and Rafia, survive.

SON IS SUCCESSOR

Baghdad, Iraq, Sept. 8 (AP)—Crown Prince Ghazi was sworn in today as king of Iraq, succeeding his father, King Faisal, who died suddenly in Berne, Switzerland, of a heart attack.

Official announcement was made that there would be a seven day period of state mourning. Thousands tonight attended prayers in all Baghdad mosques and the outstanding impression in the city was an atmosphere of calm.

tax remained problematical. Welfare Director Carpenter held the act is open to a contest on several grounds. The legislative council is now considering amendments to the act in its broad legislative program.

Miss Mershon in her statement to county clerks, however, said she will seek early collection of the tax. "This department," she said, "will follow the letter of the law as now enacted and it will register and collect the tax as provided at this time in the law."

The old age pension act was rushed through the legislature in the closing hour of its session. It imposes a $2 head tax on all residents of 21 years or older. It has been estimated the tax would apply to some 2,800,000 persons in the state, including indigents. Persons of 70 years of age or older would be entitled at the maximum rate of $30 a month.

BIDS ASKED ON ROAD PROJECT

5.2 Miles To Be Paved at Stephenson and Daggett

Sealed proposals will be received from prequalified contractors at the office of the Michigan state highway department, Escanaba, until 10 o'clock Friday morning, Sept. 15, for improving 5.236 miles of road in the villages of Stephenson and Daggett and Stephenson and Daggett townships in Menominee county.

The work will consist of shaping the road and surfacing to a width of 20 feet with concrete pavement. The work must be completed on or before Sept. 1, 1934.

This project will be built under the provisions of Title II of the National Industrial Recovery Act of June 16, 1933. Special provisions concerning the employment and the use of labor will accompany the proposals for the work. The minimum wage paid to all skilled labor employed on this contract shall be fifty cents per hour. The minimum wage paid to all unskilled labor employed on this contract shall be forty cents per hour.

This project is on a relocated route of US-41 and will eliminate two hazardous railroad crossings.

Peninsula Bankers Attend Meets Here

Bankers of the upper peninsula have been coming to Escanaba this week to attend conferences at the Delta hotel with officials of the federal reserve bank of Minneapolis and the state banking department.

The purpose of the meetings is to explain the various phases of the plan for federal guarantee of bank deposits, which will go into effect Jan. 1.

The conferences are in charge of: D. Ray Gregg, J. Johnson, and L. H. Ichler, officials of the federal reserve at Minneapolis; and Peter Talantino, member of the staff of the state banking department, Lansing.

LUDINGTON AT 13TH

History of Escanaba

A Review of Its Early Growth, With a Description of Its Industries, Resources and Commercial Position Half Century Ago

BY WALTER R. NURSEY

At the time of writing it contains 21,453 yards of graded streets, all running parallel, or at right angles with Ludington, which extends from the harbor at a slight incline, to the westward. Sites for wholesale warehouses cannot be expected to be retained on this street, which is fast filling up with retail stores, some of which are of a character in design and construction, difficult to surpass in cities of ten times Escanaba's magnitude.

Wells avenue running parallel with Ludington, is a magnificent thoroughfare. It is beautified by growing shade trees, and with its grand level floor of sand, and gravel, with all the solidity of concrete, presents a great promenade for vehicle and horseman. From its east end close to its terminus at the gates of the general cemetery, it is 2,200 yards in length. The following, other than those already named, are the streets as at present graded and gravelled, and with plank walks on either side: Hale street, 2,026 yards, Ayer street, 2,280, Jacob street, 1,774, Tweedie street, 1,580, Thomas street, 2,280, Michigan avenue, 1,013, Agden avenue, 1,774, Tilden avenue, 760, Dousman street, 1,068, Harrison avenue, 1,014, Wolcott street, 1,268, Campbell street, 1,774, Elmora street, 2,026, Georgia street, 2,026, Charlotte street, 3,500, Mary street, 2,260, Fannie street, 3,786, Sarah street, 760, Sinclair street, 760, sundry streets, 3,700. Street Commissioner Moe, is authority for the statement, that fully five miles of new walks have been constructed, the summer just ended.

Grading and graveling alone this year, will exceed an outlay of $18,000. The building of the main sewers, is just completed. Six thousand, three hundred feet of pipe has been laid this year, at a contract cost of $20,000, and a system of sewage established, which will answer all initial purposes.

The soil on which the city stands is of such a porous nature, that the liquid sewage hitherto discharged, has been absorbed, and has percolated to such a depth, as to hinder the growth of vegetation, and to break of those epidemics usually born of defective drainage. Ludington street so soon as work on the sewers is completed, is to be cedar block paved for 3,500 feet at an expenditure of $30,000. This street was originally built upon, without any regard for what would be its level when up to proper grade, and buildings have been wont to be constructed, with complete concern, as to whether their chimney tops would appear above the sidewalks, or not.

Previous to the recent application of blocks and jackcrews, sidewalks ran alongside house fronts after the manner of an elevated railway. The ordinary Escanaban however with as many living chances as Jerome's cat, has—and in some instances, notwithstanding the lingering demands of progressive eulchre, and midnight assignments, managed to escape the horrors of these trottoirs. A new order of things however is being rapidly established under the supervision of Mr. Zane, city engineer. In addition to the streets already mentioned as graded, the old public road, running north, between the Chicago & North-Western Railway passenger depot, and the Cochran Foundry, to Flat Rock mills, is already graded throughout for four miles (its entire length), making a magnificent highway out to, and beyond the mammoth saw mills operated by the I. Stephenson Company. This road passes through North Escanaba, where the tap of the hammer and the zip of the saw, pervades the pines from morning till night as dwelling houses, boarding houses and hotels are rapidly springing into existence, alongside the new ore-docks, now in course of construction by the Schlesinger Railway Company. Neither do these figures of mileage include the famed Ford River road, which stretches away to the south, following, through an arboretum of evergreen forest, the trend of the shore line of Green Bay for seven miles, to the confluence of that stream with the waters of the great lake.

The water-works of the city of Escanaba, are the most extensive in the Northwest portion of the state, having a pumping capacity of 2,000,000 gallons every twelve hours. The pumping house is on the beach of Sand Point close to the light house, and obtains its supply from the unpolluted waters of the lake. The forcing motor is supplied by two compound Worthington pumps, with a pressure of 125 lbs., and can send a stream to a height of 100 feet from six separate hydrants, direct from the bay pipe end, some 2,500 feet distant. The diameter of the lake pipes is about 14 inches. The ordinary consumption of water in the summer months by amphibious Escanabans, is ten or eleven million gallons every four weeks, the average consumption however being about 300,000 gallons daily. There are 84 hydrants in all, and some twelve miles of mains are laid throughout the city. The yearly rentals for water service range from four to twelve dollars.

RAILWAY CO-OP AFFAIRS CLOSED

Checks Are Mailed Out to Stockholders by Trustees

The affairs of the Railway Cooperative association were closed up this week with the mailing of checks to those stockholders, who were entitled to a share in the distribution of the cash balance.

The trustees, H. E. Little, John K. Olson and Harry J. Moreau, opened their meeting on Thursday and closed yesterday.

The decision to wind up the affairs of the association was made at a meeting of stockholders held in June. The stockholders were given until August 31 to deposit their certificates.

At the trustees' meeting this week, certificates which were valid were allowed and stockholders allotted their share, after which checks for the amounts due each were made out and mailed.

The Railway Cooperative association operated a store for several years at Fourteenth and Ludington street. The property was acquired by the Scandia Cooperative Association when the Railway Coop stockholders voted to dissolve.

The change to indoor walls after the season in the open on the beautiful shore of Green bay at the Camp site will be a rather difficult transition.

Inspect Wooden Coach In Wreck

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 8. (P)—Federal and railroad officials, seeking to fix responsibility for the Erie train wreck at Binghamton last Tuesday which cost the lives of 14 persons, are expected to make an inspection tomorrow of the wooden passenger car in which the 14 persons killed were riding when the crash came. The wooden coach has been hauled to the yards at Susquehanna.

A copyrighted article published today by the Binghamton Press said that the Erie officials are prepared to offer evidence that a steel coach in the same position as the wooden one had on the crack train would have crumpled and split in the same manner as the "death car" under the impact when the fier was struck from behind by a milk train.

REAL STATESMANSHIP

It was a masterly address, delivered in a thoroughly statesman-like manner, given by United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, before members of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and their guests on Thursday night. Complete absence of political bias and his stirring appeal, to back the arms of the President of the nation in the present battle against the national economic depression, won for Senator Vandenberg sincere admiration and brought to those who were privileged to hear him an appreciation of his unalterable determination to measure up to his interpretation of the duties of the high office he holds, without regard for political consequences.

He intimatedly discussed "The State of the Nation" with his audience and although he is classed at Washington as the "junior" Republican senator from Michigan, when he had concluded no one could have determined, from his address, whether he was a Democrat or a Republican.

It has been such thoroughly non-political addresses delivered by Senator Vandenberg, that has marked him as more nearly possessing the qualities of real statesmanship, than any man sent to Washington by the state of Michigan in a generation.

JUST TALK?

A hint that salary slashing by the administration at Washington, upon its induction into power, may have been but a gesture is carried in the announcement from the capital on Thursday that budget officials are estimating future salary requirements on a basis of base pay, rather than upon the basis of general 15 per cent salary reductions ordered by the president last March. According to Washington dispatches, officials at the national capital are jubilant over indications that departmental salaries are to be restored to old levels, under the new budget.

It is revealed that if the new budget is prepared on the basis of present salary schedules it will require $875,000,000 to pay $40,000 full time officials and employees, while if the old salary basis is restored it will require a billion dollars to pay this army of officers and workers.

It is also revealed in Washington dispatches that while much to do has been made at the national capital over a highly publicized program of wholesale lopping off of governmental employees, in reality the actual reduction in the number of federal employees is negligible because of new employees required for the conduct of national emergency activities.

Down at Lansing it was recently revealed that salaries of state officials had been restored to pre-depression levels and if such a program is now to be carried out at Washington, all of this talk about reduction in governmental costs will have become largely, just talk.

SISTER COMMUNITIES IGNORED

Action of Escanaba officials in summarily abandoning this city's "fast time" schedule last Monday, without advance notice, is being bitterly and justly criticized by both officials and residents of nearby cities and communities. The right and power of this city's administration to fix its own time schedule is granted, but it is rightly felt that observance of the slightest evidence of courtesy between municipalities should have induced Escanaba's officials to give at least some advance notice of their intention, to brother officers in Gladstone, Manistiquette and other communities. Summary action of Escanaba officials in abandoning, without notice, its summer fast time schedule has resulted in unwarranted time confusion between neighbor communities and officials of those communities justly feel that they were slightly and grossly ignored, in a matter in which neighborly cooperation, has here-to-fore been observed.

It is such slights and such violation of neighborly procedure upon which sectional and community strife are founded, a condition from which this district has been singularly free in past years.

Fair minded citizens of Escanaba will not seek to justify, in the slightest degree, the unwarranted and unjustifiable treatment accorded our sister communities, by our city council.

COUNCIL-MANAGER GOVERNMENT

The annual conference of the International City Managers' Association to be held in Chicago on September 18 to 20, takes on an added significance this year because it marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of council-manager government. It was in the year 1908 that the mayor and council of Staunton, Virginia, dissatisfied with the inefficiency of council committees in handling administrative problems, passed an ordinance creating the position of "general manager" and delegated to the office "the handling of all administrative affairs." Two years later, Lockport, New York, with the aid of Richard S. Childs, a New York business man, prepared a bill embodying the best features of the commission plan and the Staunton idea of an appointive manager. In 1912, Sumter, South Carolina, adopted a new charter based on the "Lockport Plan" and a few other small cities followed this example.

The real test of the plan, however, did not come until the Fall of 1913 when in Dayton, Ohio, a disastrous flood led the citizens to adopt a more responsive form of government. Springfield, Ohio, took similar action a few weeks later and from that time until the present the plan has been adopted in cities of all sizes at an average rate of fifteen to twenty a year. There are now 429 council-manager cities in the United States, seventeen in four Canadian provinces, three in Ireland, and one in Puerto Rico. These cities range in size from Polk City, Florida, with a population of 222 to Cincinnati, Ohio, with 451,161. At present more than one out of every five cities in the United States with a population of over ten thousand is operating under the council-manager plan, the same ratio holding for the ninety-three cities of more than one hundred thousand population. The proponents of the plan, as proof of its workability, point to the fact that but fifteen cities adopting the plan during the past quarter century have abandoned it. They do not claim that it is the last word in city government but they are safe in claiming that in communities where there is sufficient civic interest to provide continuous support of good municipal government, the council-manager plan is the most effective form of local government yet created in this country.

The several hundred city managers who will assemble in Chicago this month, however, will not discuss ways and means of spreading the council-manager plan, nor will they praise its success. They will be interested rather in attracting capable administrators to the public service and in improving their own technical proficiency so that the difficult problems the depression has spawned may be more intelligently solved.

BETTER BEER, LIGHTER TAX

H. L. Mencken, Baltimore's authority on beer and books, is urging better and less heavily taxed brews to prevent the revival of whiskey drinking which he described as "an unmitigated evil."

"Beer," he said in giving his views on the subject, "is here, but a good deal of it is inferior and all of it is too expensive. The federal tax of $5 a barrel has been borne so far without public tumults, but that is only because, as heavy as it is, it still seems light beside the fantastic extortions of the prohibition agents during the 13 years of the Anti-Saloon League hellenism."

Sooner or later, he said, the better drinkers of the country will revolt against the tax and demand reduction. This, he

LOVE OF EVE

(By NEA Service)

BY LUCY WALLING

CHAPTER XXVII
Eve entered the offices of the brokerage firm of Sloan and Sanford with trepidation. Yet she felt no urge to turn back. She had made one investment through the bank and now was exploring new fields. Eve had decided to shift the scene for her next financial venture.

She asked for Mr. Sanford and this time he was at his desk. Her naïveté must have amused him, for more than once she noticed a twinkle in his large, blue-gray eyes.

"I'm through with Pure Soap," Eve told him. "I don't want to open, is far more likely to increase the national revenue than reduce it."

"If the tax were lifted to $10 millions of Americans would quit beer altogether. But if it were reduced to $2, every beer drinker would drink much more, and millions who still stick to home brew would begin to patronize the breweries."

"Plainly enough, the consumption of beer ought to be encouraged as much as possible, especially in view of the early repeal of the 18th amendment. The thing we have to fear is the revival of whiskey drinking, an unmitigated evil. Make beer cheap and good—and very few will turn to whiskey. Give us a really big glass for a nickel. But keep it expensive, and the distillers and the bootleggers will do a land-office business."

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

TAKE MY HAND

There is a game the children play
Where one drops out. The circle breaks.
And then a hand another takes.
The game goes on. So day by day
We play a game, one not so gay.
The one called life, where one forsakes
The circle, swiftly called away.

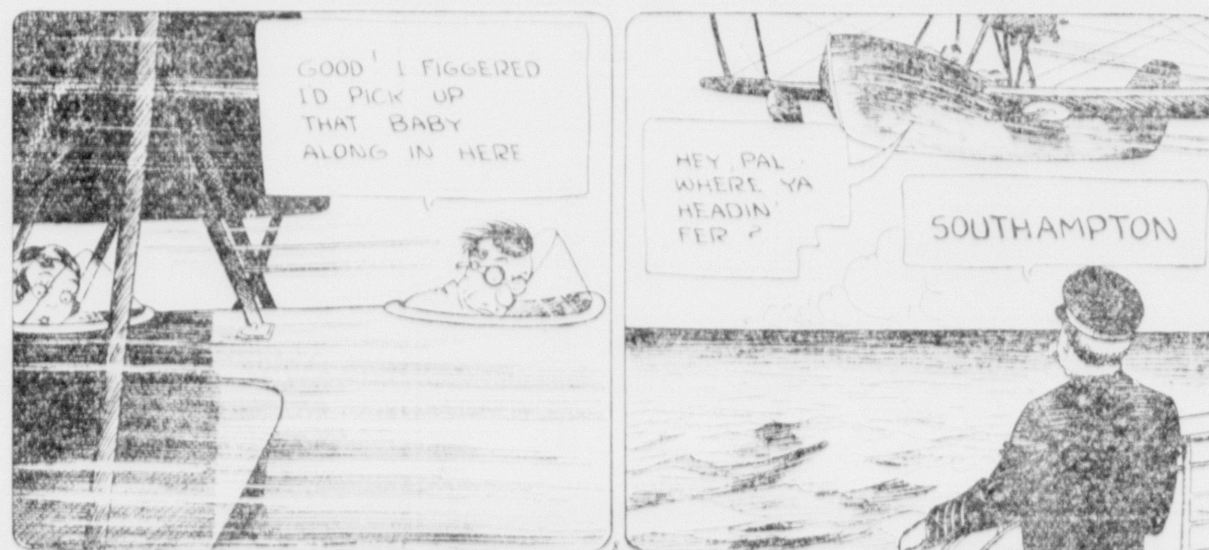

It all is hard to understand.
This thing called life. For some dear friend
The game is swiftly at an end.
The circle sundered. Take my hand,
Life must go on. Our little band
Is broken, but the circle mends
The best we may, as God has planned.

Although we miss the one so dear,
Although our circle smaller grows
When from that company one goes,
May those remaining seem more near
Yes, may the bond of love appear
A little brighter, may we close
Our little circle, who are here.

this place without investing."

Tuesday was pay day at Bixby's and the following Wednesday found Arlene in Mr. Sanford's office with Eve. Arlene was being initiated into making her first investment.

"I think it would be fun to margin," she commented when the methods of investing were explained to her. "I'd love the excitement of it!"

So Arlene also bought Atlas Coupler.

To Eve it had always been necessary to share each new experience with some one. Only after confiding in another and reliving the event did she get the utmost joy from it. Hence her spirits were greatly exhilarated after Arlene made her investment and they watched the trend of the market together. There were days when both of them felt the stimulation of a rise of a point or two in the valuation of Atlas Coupler. And there were days when a slight decline sent them into the very depth of discouragement.

Atlas Coupler had long lain dormant. Eve learned after looking up data concerning it. After the patent rights had been secured there had been a lengthy, uncertain delay in marketing the device, owing to the power of the holding company behind the coupler that was to be displaced by Atlas. But now contracts had been signed and manufacturing had begun. A reliable brokerage concern guided the activities of the issue and demand for it caused an extended flurry in the stock. The girls had every reason to believe quick riches were to be theirs for their risk and they anticipated their return eagerly.

Eve really longed to tell Dick of her investments, but she felt she could score a greater triumph by waiting until her gains were substantial. Not that she wished to flaunt her success, she assured herself, but she must be able to justify her desire to earn her own money.

Eve felt these days an almost overwhelming sense of hope and expectancy. She attributed it to the apparently established upward trend of Atlas Coupler, but it might have been born of the springtime. Mrs. Brooks, who was in her garden at six o'clock each morning, watched for Eve often and gave her a bouquet of fragrant lilacs of the valley for her desk. Then came the week toward which the entire household had been looking forward when the lilac bushes were in bloom and purple and white clusters filled the air with their fragrance.

"Dick!" called Eve softly from the shabby old front steps where she was sitting with her arms locked around her knees. Dick, lounging in a gay steamer chair on the lawn below, looked up at her. The moon was sending beams of light through the newly-leaved maple trees and fantastic shadows danced on Eve's face. "I just love this place!" she declared.

Dick blew a curling wreath of smoke rings from his pipe upward toward the star-sprinkled sky. Then he answered slowly and contently: "We'll never find a better place in the city."

"I wish we could stay here forever!" Eve went on. "I mean happy and peaceful, just as we are now."

"Um!" responded Dick. And then Miss McElhinney, one of the teachers who lived upstairs, came out on the porch. "It's such a gorgeous evening and you look so snug here. I hope you don't mind if I join you."

She perched herself on the new-el post, nearer to Dick than to Eve. Before many minutes had elapsed she was off on a monologue which threatened to continue for hours.

"You see," Miss McElhinney confided in her slow voice that held a suggestion of a lisp. "I do like to come out of my character! All day long I have to be the stern 'schoolmarm' and after hours I long to be just the little girl I feel!"

Dick coughed but refrained from comment.

Eve studied the newcomer with some misgiving. Apparently her line was flattery.

"I think," Miss McElhinney continued, facing Dick directly, "that you are wonderful to accomplish all you do. Building

LABOR SCARCITY RATED HEALTHY

Dahlberg Says Industry
Benefited Also By Situation

By SIGRID ARBE
Washington (AP)—Scarcity of labor is rated by a government expert as an oversupply even for the industries that must bid for the workmen.

When there is a scarcity of labor, Dr. Arthur Dahlberg, of the division, points out that all who wish to work are working. They are earning and spending their incomes back into the industries that are paying Dr. Dahlberg the incomes.

"Meanwhile there are the smaller groups who are investing their money in the industries because of the earning power," he adds. "Their income is more certain when the great masses of working people are employed, earning and spending."

"When we get such a period as the 1920's with machines replacing men the profits climb for a while. But at the same time men are dropped from productive industries into the miscellaneous classes where their bargaining power for wages is weaker."

Spending Power Declined
For instance, if the canvassers who sell from house to house strike tomorrow it would have little effect. But if the carpenters strike, it is felt. The point illustrates why men in the miscellaneous classes are weaker in bargaining for wages.

As the 1920's progressed the number of men shifting to miscellaneous trades was twice the number that were added to the main body of industry. Spending power began to shrink even while profits were soaring. Meanwhile those who invest in industry began to see that industry's earning power was falling. They withdrew their money. The depression was started, and neither labor nor investors were earning."

Favors 30 Hour Week
Dr. Dahlberg thinks working hours will eventually have to become even shorter. He favors the 30-hour week and has written a book, "Jobs, Machines and Capitalism" which has caused wide comment.

His background was built in a uniquely opportune manner. He left his home at Escanaba, Mich., to take an engineering degree at the University of Michigan.

He added a doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin where he stayed to teach for seven years. Later he launched upon special work in the social sciences at Harvard, going on to the London School of Economics for further research. He was studying in London when he was called back to Washington. Here it is his duty to clarify the industrial picture as NRA piles up the signed codes.

That piecing together of the new order brings to light many surprises. When the codes are finally analyzed and compared it becomes evident that there are some agreements entirely neglect phases—such as planning and control of capacity—which others have gone into thoroughly.

Sees NRA Benefits
Also, new benefits come to light. Dr. Dahlberg contends that business men will have less to worry about, fewer "variables." They will be working under uniform wage and hour conditions in the individual industries.

"That means profits will come out of efficiency and not from exploitation of human beings. Manufacturers will not have to worry about their competitors who are increasing their margin of profits by cutting wages."

"The industrialists are beginning to recognize these benefits. I am convinced that if the government dropped NRA tomorrow there would be a strong effort from within industries to keep the codes running."

"If we eventually achieve the 30 hour week, however, I believe it will have to be a national move. The NRA program will make it easier by proving that shorter hours are not a result of greater production but a means to generating greater production."

"We tried with legislation to protect 'job opportunity' by closing the gates to European immigration. Yet we permitted billions of mechanical slaves to come in over the fence."

"What does really mean today when they say desperately, 'What we need is another war?' Back in their minds they see the war years; four million men in arms and another seven million making supplies—11 million men diverted from ordinary economic activity."

"That meant no unemployment, a blissful feeling of opportunity, workers receiving much and spending freely. Clearly it was this scarcity of labor rather than patriotism that made out capital perform better than it ever has before."

Attendance of children, five years of age or over, in the elementary school of England will decrease by one million in the next 15 years due to the declining birth rate and other factors, according to estimates.

Maney to Retire
Marquette—After continuous employment for 51 years, James Maney, general freight and passenger agent for the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway, has been retired on pension.

Retirement of Mr. Maney, who is a native of Marquette, was announced by S. R. Lewis, traffic manager for the South Shore, who said that a successor to Maney had not been selected.

Mr. Maney started his railroad career when he was 13 years old, taking in a job in Marquette as messenger boy for the old Marquette, Houghton and Ontonagon railroad. The M. H. & O. was taken over by the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic in 1888 and Mr. Maney continued in the railroad business, moving from Marquette to Duluth in June, 1905, when he was appointed assistant passenger agent under Mart Adson, who now lives in Los Angeles.

Grave Problems Face Public School System

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is the first of a daily series of three showing conditions in the public school system of this country as revealed by a nation-wide survey.)

BY RADER WINGET
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Troubles in financing the public educational system of the United States hang over the heads of 27,700,000 students marching back to classrooms for the opening of the 1933-34 term, a nation-wide survey by The Associated Press shows.

Financial retrenchment, made necessary by dwindling tax monies, is being carried into the coming school year with salary reductions, shortened terms, less construction and other economies designed to save educational systems from permanent blight.

All of these economies come in the face of a nation-wide enrollment increase which in normal times would call for expansion and additional expenditures.

Called Serious Problem
The attitude of educators toward conditions in their own states ranges from satisfaction to appeals for assistance. Many of those who expressed themselves are optimistic about the future but declare the present situation presents a grave problem. Information on conditions comes from state school officials in most cases.

While there is a long list of states with reduced budgets for the coming year, some states have pared budgets only slightly and a few show actual increases. Most drastic reductions in expenditures for education are shown in Arizona where the budget was cut from $8,600,000 in 1929-30 to $400,000 for 1933-34.

Big Cuts in Salaries
That state also shows a decrease in enrollment, a condition away from the general trend of the country. Herman Hendrix, superintendent of public instruction, blames the loss of enrollment on closing of copper mines.

This smaller number of children along with drastic economies and cessation of the entire building program has made possible the tremendous budget reductions. Cuts in teachers' salaries range as high as 40 percent.

One Budget Increase
Rhode Island this year plans a budget of $9,575,000 as against $9,529,000 for the previous year and $9,592,000 for 1933-34.

New Jersey jumped from $109,000,000 in 1929-30 to $109,000,000 last year but this year's budget will be less than last year, the survey shows.

Delaware also is above 1929 levels with $3,488,000 planned for this year as against $3,250,000 in the peak year and $3,662,000 last year.

In the south generally the steadily increasing number of children face another term with fewer teachers and less money for operation.

James H. Richmond, Kentucky superintendent of public instruction, says:

"There is a crisis in public education not only in Kentucky but also throughout the nation. If this trend is permitted to continue, it will be only a matter of time until the schools will crack under the strain."

State Takes Over Schools
Dr. T. Allen, North Carolina superintendent of education, says the annual decrease in his state's budget for this year, more than $15,000,000 under 1929, is due to the fact that the state takes over all schools in the 100 counties for eight months, by act of the 1933 legislature.

The state by that action guarantees an eight-month school term for every recognized school in the state. Local units by vote of the people may supplement this term, but so far only four units have done so, with such important cities as Charlotte and Greensboro voting against the proposal.

Bertram E. Packard, commissioner of education in Maine, estimates a 10 per cent reduction in school expenditures for the coming year, making an estimated $9,200,000. "This is due to the smaller appropriations made by municipalities for school purposes because of the business depression," he says.

Short-Term Contract for Teachers
No curtailment of Oregon terms has been made definitely, says State Superintendent Charles A. Howard, but it is considered probable for some schools. Some large city districts are employing teachers on a five-month contract only but will employ for full terms if revenue is forthcoming. Others are hiring by short-term contracts or by the month.

Oregon spent $561,000 more last year than in 1929, but reduced expenditures for the coming year are indicated.

SALESMAN SAM

COUNTY GOV'T BEING STUDIED

Much Interest Displayed in Manager Plan of Administration

"Inquiries coming to our office reveal a widespread interest in county manager government," states Clarence E. Ridley, executive director, International City Managers Association, Chicago. "A period of depression focuses attention of taxpayers on problems of local government. They seek to cut costs and improve the quality of service. Increased interest in the manager plan, whether for cities or counties is sure to follow."

On August 26, citizens of Texas amended their state constitution to permit counties of over 82,000 of which there are thirteen to adopt county manager government, if they so desire. On September 19, the conference of managers in session at Henrico County, Virginia, seat of the state capital, Richmond, will vote on the county manager plan.

4 Counties Have It
Only four counties as yet have fully fledged county manager government: Durham County, North Carolina; Arlington County, Virginia, just across the river from Washington; Sacramento County, California; and San Mateo County, California. Herbert Hoover's home county with Palo Alto as its principal city. Thirty-nine other counties, chiefly in North Carolina and Virginia, have a modified form of county manager government.

City managers from all parts of the United States are meeting in Chicago, September 18-20 in their twentieth annual conference. They will concentrate attention on problems arising out of the depression.

A Quarter Century of Council-Manager Government" is review in the current issue of Public Management, monthly journal of the International City Managers' Association. It was just twenty-five years ago that Staunton, Virginia, the first city, adopted the plan. Two or three little cities followed. Then came the crisis of the great flood in 1913, and Dayton, first big city, named a manager for itself. After that never less than thirteen cities (in 1924) and as many as forty-eight (in 1921) adopted the manager form of government each year, until there now are 429 in the United States, seventeen in Canada, three in Ireland (including Dublin), and one in Puerto Rico.

About one out of five cities of more than 10,000 have managers, the proportion holding fairly constant regardless of size. Council-manager cities of more than 100,000 are: Cincinnati, Kansas City, Missouri; Rochester, Grand Rapids, Dallas, Fort Worth, Dayton, Oakland, San Diego, Long Beach, Miami, Wichita, Fall River, Flint, Oklahoma City, Knoxville, Norfolk, and San Juan, capital of Puerto Rico.

Office Tenure Increasing
Cities so governed are most numerous in the following states, named in order: Michigan, Texas, Florida, California, Virginia, Oklahoma.

One-fourth of the states have no council-manager cities, mainly because permissive legislation has never been enacted. These are Alabama, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, Wyoming.

Records indicate that the tenure of office of city managers is increasing. Back in 1920 the average tenure of the 165 managers then in office was slightly more than two years. By 1925, the average tenure of the then 305 managers had risen to three and one-half years; by 1930, average tenure of 461 managers to almost five years. At the end of 1932, the average was five and one-half years. More than 200 city managers have moved from one city to another. Most managers have had previous experience in some public office.

Ruins of huge buildings, statues and other signs of a former civilization have been found on Easter Island, in the middle of the Pacific.

Doings In New York

New York—This is not by way of suggestion that the Manhattan telephone directory, or any of its 1021 pages, makes interesting reading. But now and then, rare as a flash of action in a Henry James novel, there is an arresting line. And sometimes a confusing discrepancy between names and addresses.

For instance, the Fifth Avenue Galleries are not on Fifth Avenue at all, and the Fifth Avenue Theatre is on Broadway. Farthest removed of all is the Fifth Avenue Exterminating Co., which is in Brooklyn, but second honors go to Madison Square Garden, which is at least a mile and a half from Madison Square.

Still, and all there must be prestige in a name, for less than half of the 181 establishments named in the Broadway Something-or-other are actually on Broadway. Only 11 of the 39 named for Park Avenue are on that exclusive thoroughfare, and one of the 11 in the Park Avenue Live Poultry Market, up at the north end where the street tumbles into a pushcart ghetto.

O. I. See
One fine old name not in the directory any longer is that of Orbal I. See. Mr. See, who is really Wood Cowan, the comic actor who draws "The Newfangles," has moved to Connecticut. Some years ago, though, he went into the phone company's office to apply for service in his town apartment.

"What is your name?" asked a clerk.
"What did you say?" asked the artist.
"I said I must have your name," replied the clerk, a little impatiently.

"Oh, I see," drawled Cowan.
"And your first name, Mr. See?" inquired the clerk, busily scribbling on a card.

This so amused the applicant that he invented a name on the spot. "Orbal," he said. And Orbal I. See it was, through four issues of the directory. His friends had heard the story, so they had no difficulty remembering his nom de telephone.

In general, the people who have gone exclusive to the point of withdrawing their listings from the public directory are not the men of finance and industry and such, but the Broadway celebrities. Thus, you'd be unable to call Rudy Vallee, Al Jolson or Earl Carroll unless you knew their private numbers, but you could ring up the homes of William H. Vanderbilt, Charles M. Schwab and J. P. Morgan. And on page 780 there's a democratic "Roosevelt, Franklin D.—43 E 65—Rhineclander 4-7428."

For romance, the volume of fers a Maid in the Mountains, four Neckers, one Hug, two Moonlights and a Hensymoon.

For the poetry in merchandise: Sam Katz, Ladies Hats and for whimsy: Ye Olde N. Y. Branch of The N. Y. State Association of Retail Meat Dealers Inc.

For mystery, the last listing in the book: "Zzyx, The—33 West 44—Murrayhill 2-4516." Telephone that number, ask what The Zzyx is, and you'll hear a voice say guardedly, "Well, it's a sort of club. You know—one of those ah—nice little places that's a sort of—er—a club."

200 Return to Work
Iron River—Two hundred employees returned to their jobs yesterday, when the Hiawatha mine, of the M. A. Hanna company, resumed operations, after being idle since last May.

The men will be staggered so that each will get at least eight days a month, according to G. M. Cannon, Hanna company manager here. It is planned to increase the working schedule about Nov. 1, when the men will get an average of 12 days a month, he stated.

at once," they said, "prosecution will follow. Anyone caught violating the act is subject to a fine of not more than $100 or 90 days in jail, or both fine and jail sentence in the discretion of the court."

The law requires that all public utility carriers using high-wire for wages or profit shall register with the public utilities commission and obtain permits, the inspectors said. The purpose of the act is to promote safety upon the highways.

The inspectors said yesterday they arrested Edson W. Navarre, of Detroit, on a charge of illegally hauling passengers for hire between Detroit and the copper country. Navarre pleaded guilty in municipal court at Marquette and was ordered to pay a fine of $80 and costs, the fine being suspended upon payment of costs.

Following their visit in Ishpeming, the inspectors left for Gogebic county. They said they would return here in a few days to determine whether the motorists under suspicion in this county have heeded their warning.

Orville Aronson
Back from West

Orville Aronson has returned to Escanaba for a short vacation visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Aronson, 609 South Tenth street, following a western trip, during which he visited Yellowstone National Park, Salt Lake City and other points of interest. He also represented his fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha at its national convention, held in Denver August 28-31. Mr. Aronson is leaving Wednesday for Chicago to visit a Century of Progress Exposition and will go on from there to Ann Arbor to resume his studies at the University of Michigan.

Today's Recipe

PLUM CHUTNEY.

Two quarts plums, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon each mace, allspice and cloves, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 lemon, 1-2 cups vinegar, 1 cup water. Wash fruit and cook in vinegar and water until tender. Rub through a colander. Add sugar, spices, grated rind and juice of lemon and cook until as thick as catsup. Seal in hot sterilized jars or keep in a covered stone crock.

A Pie That Isn't Baked

A pie that comes from the icebox instead of the oven is the delicious peach dessert pictured here.

A delicious pie which doesn't require any baking is the very newest contribution to the art of cooking.

Now that summer is on the wane, your family is going to expect more wholesome desserts than you served during the hot months. By pooling your resources, you can give them the sweets they crave and, at the same time, spare yourself much work in preparation.

There is hardly a man or child in America who doesn't love pie for dessert. You can serve it with a minimum of effort simply by letting your ice box do most of the work.

Now that peaches are in season, why not make the most of them? Here's the way to make a grand peach pie which doesn't have to be cooked:

For the pie filling, blend one and one-third cups of sweetened condensed milk (one can) with one-quarter cup of lemon juice, the grated rind of one lemon and one cup of sliced peaches.

Since the condensed milk contains milk and sugar which are already boiled down to perfect smoothness, it will thicken with the lemon juice almost instantly.

For the uncooked pie crust, roll enough vanilla wafers to make three-quarters of a cup of crumbs. Cut vanilla wafers in halves and stand them around the edge of the pie plate. Cover the bottom of the plate with crumbs and fill the spaces between the wafers.

Four in the filling and cover with whipped cream which has been sweetened with two tablespoons of confectioner's sugar.

Put the whole thing in the ice box so that it will be thoroughly chilled when you are ready to serve it.

Garnish the top of the pie with slices of fresh peaches just before you are ready to take it to the table.

Casserole Dish Brings Out Fine Flavor Of Foods

For real flavor and economy, casserole dishes are favorites with the cook who makes a point of these two features in planning her menus. Economy because the cheaper foods may be utilized. Flavor, because this special type of cooking seems to bring out to the utmost the last delicate bit of delicious and savory quality in the foods so prepared.

Chicken Pie
 2 cups cooked chicken
 12 small white onions
 1 cup cooked sliced carrots
 2 cups seasoned chicken broth
 4 tablespoons flour
 6 tablespoons water
 Baking powder biscuit dough
 Arrange the chicken, onions and carrots in a 1½ quart casserole. Meanwhile heat the chicken broth, stir in the flour mixed to a smooth paste with the water and boil five minutes. Pour this sauce over the chicken and vegetables. Prepare the baking powder biscuit dough by the standard recipe using two cups of flour as a base. Roll to one-fourth inch thickness and cut into rings. Arrange on chicken. Bake in hot oven for 30 minutes.

Baked Pork Chops
 4 loin pork chops
 3 large potatoes sliced thin
 2 slices salt pork
 2 small onions sliced thin
 1 cup canned beef broth
 1 cup water
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 ¼ cup bread crumbs
 Salt and pepper to taste
 Lay the slices of salt pork on bottom of glass or earthen casserole. Dust the chops with the salt, pepper and mustard and fry lightly on both sides. In the dish arrange the potatoes and onions in layers and dust lightly with salt and pepper. Place the chops on top and pour in the beef broth and water. Sprinkle with the bread crumbs and dot with fat cut off the chops. Bake, covered in a moderate oven for 1½ hours. Uncover and bake another one-half hour to brown.

Casserole Italiane
 Cook ½ pound spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender but not soft. Chop one small onion, 1 clove garlic and 1 green pepper and fry in ¼ cup salad oil until onions are golden brown. Add 1 can tomato soup, one small can tomato paste and 2 teaspoons Worcestershire. Heat thoroughly and season well with salt and pepper. Add ½ cup cheese and stir until melted. Cook ½ pound hamburger steak until slightly brown. Add to

Good Coffee Is All In The Making

Even the highest grade of coffee can be ruined if the proper care is lacking in its preparation. One of the essentials of good coffee is to prepare it always in a scrupulously clean pot. So between each brewing scour the pot with soap or cleanser using a thin brush to clean the spout. It helps to boil out the pot occasionally with a pinch of soda. Rinse well with very hot water after the pot is cleaned in this manner.

The coffee must never, never be boiled as this destroys the delicate flavor of the bean. And never, never, never reheat coffee—it becomes flat, bitter and unpalatable in this process.

There are three methods of making coffee, the drip method, the percolator method and the regular coffee pot method.

For the drip method use one rounded or two level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water with an additional tablespoon for the pot. This coffee should be finely ground, and placed in the upper section with the perforated bottom. Bring the water to a brisk boiling, remove from the heat and pour at once over the ground coffee, allowing it to drip into the lower section of the pot. To keep from cooking during this process place pot on asbestos pad over very low flame or in a pan of very hot water. The percolator method requires the same measurement of medium ground coffee per cup with one extra tablespoon for the pot. Put hot or cold water in the pot, put coffee in top section and allow water to percolate through the coffee about seven minutes. The regular coffee pot method utilizes one rounded or two level tablespoons of coarsely ground coffee to the cup, one additional for the pot. Place coffee in the pot and pour over it fresh water briskly boiling. Stir coffee and let simmer (do not boil) for 5 to 8 minutes. Settle with a dash of cold water. Coffee is a welcome beverage at nearly any hour of the day. After dinner coffee is usually served in much stronger solution than ordinary coffee. Two rounded tablespoons to each cup of water is the strength generally preferred. Serve it in the living room on an attractively arranged tray with sugar and cream for those who prefer them.

In summer iced coffee is a refreshing and popular beverage. Use 2 tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water in making this. The coffee should then be allowed to cool and is poured over crushed ice in tall glasses when served. Iced coffee may be made quickly by brewing a particularly strong blend and pouring it, hot, over crushed ice.

Salad Dressing
 (Using leftover egg yolks)
 6 egg yolks
 1-2 cup sugar
 3 teaspoons flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 1-4 teaspoon paprika
 1-4 teaspoon celery seed
 2 teaspoons butter
 1-2 cup vinegar
 1-2 cups water
 Beat yolks and add dry ingredients. Add rest of ingredients and cook slowly and stir constantly until dressing thickens. Beat 2 minutes and pour into glass jar which has been rinsed out with cold water. Cool, cover and store in refrigerator.

Hollandaise Sauce
 2 egg yolks
 4 tablespoons butter
 1-8 teaspoon salt
 1-8 teaspoon paprika
 1-2 cup boiling water
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 Beat yolk in upper part of double boiler, add 1-2 butter and heat slowly, add salt and paprika and boiling water. Cook until sauce thickens a little. Stir constantly. Add rest of butter and lemon juice. Beat well and serve at once poured over vegetable.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DOYLE HERE ON SCHOOL SURVEYMenominee Senator Gives
Stand on Thatcher-Sias Aid Bill

In an effort to obtain first hand information on the financial situation growing out of the reported impending crisis of education in many parts of Michigan, State Senator W. F. Doyle, Menominee, has commenced an exhaustive survey of conditions for the purpose of thoroughly representing the interests of upper peninsula schools at the next session of the legislature.

Senator Doyle arrived in Manistique early yesterday morning and started an immediate study of school budgets and requirements for the year. He is one of the two members of the senate who opposed the Thatcher-Sias school aid bill. Commenting on his opposition to the measure yesterday, the Menominee senator said:

"I opposed passage of the school bill because I am firm in my belief that the legislature does not deal fairly with the problem of what we term the 'poor school districts,' especially those of the upper peninsula. While my proposed amendments which would have placed a larger sum aside for equalization were defeated in the senate, lower state educators who opposed them have since learned that the bill has a great many 'bugs' in it which they did not foresee at the time.

"We are going to have to deal with the question again. If our schools are to run all year, I was convinced that my theory was correct. I am now going through the district to substantiate my belief and place myself in position to carry on the fight when we go into session again. I think now that they have learned that all is not gold that glitters, some of my opponents will be satisfied to talk common sense and not dash into passing a bill without giving it full consideration.

"It certainly is a travesty on legislation when we consider the fact that the senate devoted the greater part of two weeks trying to decide how a glass of beer would be consumed and then in the next breath devoted only 47 minutes to discussion of a problem as important as educational aid for our children."

Earlier in the day Senator Doyle conferred with county officials on problems in which the state is involved and also sought information on the sales tax which he defines as "the worst legislative monstrosity ever perpetrated on the laboring man of Michigan."

"Of course we needed relief from real estate tax but we did not have to pass all of it onto the man with a large family who now pays the big share of state expense from the bread he eats, the potatoes he buys and the shoes which his youngsters wear to keep warm. It's an easy tax to collect but an unfair one," he said.

The senator was scheduled to briefly address the members of the Schoolcraft county board meeting in special session last night. From here he will go to Munising and the Soo before visiting other cities in the thirtieth district.

M. H. S. Crier Wins 2nd Place In Quill And Scroll Contest

The M. H. S. Crier, bi-weekly publication of the Manistique high school, was awarded the unusual distinction of winning second place in the Quill and Scroll International Awards contest, according to a letter received by Miss Mary E. Robbins yesterday from Edward Nell, executive secretary of that organization. Miss Robbins, a member of the high school faculty, has charge of its publication. The letter reads as follows:

"Second place has been accorded the M. H. S. Crier in our International Awards Contest. Please allow me to congratulate you and your staff upon this considerable achievement."

"In the opinion of the judges, the Crier deserved special commendation for its good writing, its originality in handling details and its typographical excellence."

"Under separate cover I am sending you your certificate of award."

"I hope that next year the efforts of the adviser and staff of the Crier will be attended by an even greater success."

24 Golfers Start
Tournament Play
On Local Course

The annual club championship tourney of the Indian Lake Golf Club is now being started with a total of 24 local golfers entered in the two flights. All first round matches will have to be played on or before next Wednesday, Sept. 13, according to officials in charge of the tourney. Other rounds will have to be completed on successive weeks, the second round on or before Wednesday, September 20, third round, September 27, and the fourth and final round, October 4. The 18-hole qualifying rounds were completed last Sunday.

Two prizes will be awarded in each of the three flights, championship, consolation, and first flight, to the winner and runner-up. Determinations of the respective flight personnel was based upon qualifying scores and averages for the twilight league season.

The first two rounds will be run off in 18-hole matches, 27 holes will be played to determine the winners in the semi-finals, while the final match is scheduled for 36 holes. The eight players in the championship flight, who will be eliminated in the first round will compete for honors in the consolation flight it was announced.

Players are requested to pay their tournament entry fees to Harry Dewey, caddy master, prior to competing in the tourney. Officials announce that matches played before the payment of the entry fee will be declared void.

Personnel in the championship and first flights with first round pairings is as follows:

First Bracket—Robert Giffen vs. T. F. Mulrooney; J. J. Herbert vs. Harvey Quick; Stan Crowe vs. Ben Gero, Sr.; J. C. Wood vs. T. H. Bolitho.

Second Bracket—Harry Dewey vs. Gordon Hughes; A. F. Hall vs. R. L. Prime; Vern Smith vs. Gus Ekstrom; Ben Gero, Jr., vs. John Kelly.

First Flight
A. J. Cayla vs. Dr. A. R. Tucker; Harry Erikson vs. John Munger; Elwood Taylor vs. Dr. Donald Ross; R. H. Wilson vs. R. G. Hentschell.

Arraign Carney Man On Bad Check Count

A. H. Neece, of Carney, Mich., was scheduled for arraignment before Justice W. G. Stephens yesterday morning on a charge of passing a worthless check.

Complaint in the case was made by O. J. Leveille, of Cooks, who claims that Neece a year ago gave him a check for $38 in the purchase of berry crates, but that it was no good in as much as Neece had no funds in the bank upon which it was drawn. Neece made partial restitution last fall when he paid Leveille $12, but since has made no effort to pay the balance Leveille claims.

Whitdale & Gulliver

Whitdale, Mich.—School bells are ringing in the township schools this week. The Misses Orr and Gayer have charge of the Whitdale school again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis and family of Cranston, Wis., spent the week-end at the George Walker Sr. home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lundberg, their son-in-law, Harvey Lundquist and his daughter, Louise, left last Saturday for Toronto, Ontario and other cities in the East. Mrs. Lundberg was a resident of Toronto before coming to Whitdale. They expect to be away ten days.

Harold Dixon has charge of the post office during Mr. Lundberg's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Branniff and Grandma Davis of Rexton were visitors last week-end at the Ben Davis home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shampine of Manistique were Labor Day visitors at the John Rodgers Sr. and M. Brearley homes.

Mrs. John Rodgers Sr. has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Rice, in Calais this week.

In the death of Peter Johnson the township has lost another pioneer resident and friends of the family extend sympathy to those who mourn.

Court Denies Plea
To Quash Dismiss
Motion By Hewitt

Denial of the attempt to quash the motion to dismiss which had been filed recently by Sheriff John M. Hewitt in connection with the quo warranto proceedings brought against him by Sherman F. Dewey, through Patrick O'Brien, attorney general, who seeks Hewitt's removal from office on the grounds that he is not a citizen of the United States, was made by Judge Herbert W. Rannels recently. The denied motion, filed by Attorney General O'Brien on August 28, sought to have the motion for dismissal quashed, or in lieu thereof, to have it heard at once.

As a result of the court's decision, the motion for dismissal will be heard on the opening day of court, September 25, as had been originally scheduled. Judge Rannels also held that should the motion to dismiss the suit be denied, the respondent would have the usual fifteen days to file an answer in accordance with the rules of the court.

The attorney general is being represented by Rush Culver, of Marquette, assistant attorney general, while Herbert A. Hixon, local law firm, is representing Sheriff Hewitt. The attorney general also had sought to have the hearing in Sault Ste. Marie at the Chippewa county circuit court term on September 5 and to have an immediate judgment of ouster rendered because no answer had been filed by the respondent.

Bed, Charged With
2300 Volts, Rouses
Sleepers In Storm

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Beal, Lake street, were the victims of a most trying experience during the severe electrical storm Wednesday morning when a primary line, containing 2300 volts, fused into the secondary line leading into their residence, sending the combined voltage through the house and causing some nerve racking phenomena.

Awakening from their sleep, Mr. and Mrs. Beal heard a peculiar hum throughout the house. Mr. Beal, who has had considerable experience in electrical work, once realized the cause and found that the bed in which he was sleeping was charged with electricity. The bed, having a steel frame, had a reading light attached, the cords of which, unable to carry the load, transmitted the current to the bed.

Jumping up, Mr. Beal heard a loud clatter in the basement and found the washing machine line actually dancing a jig. The plug had not been disconnected and the casters were emitting sparks up on contact with the basement floor.

An employee of the Manistique Light & Power company was notified and the troublesome primary line severed from the lead-in. The high voltage damaged the washing machine, radio, and other electrical appliances. Fortunately neither Mr. nor Mrs. Beal were injured.

The strong wind accompanying the storm is believed to have blown the primary line against the secondary where fusion took place.

Chicago, who have been spending their vacation at the Old Deerfield Summer Resort have returned to their home early Monday morning following a three week illness. A short service was held at the First Presbyterian church at three o'clock with Rev. Delloyd Huetten officiating. Interment was made in Lakeview cemetery with Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, in charge.

Pallbearers were John H. Hewitt, John Givins, Fred McNamara,

MERCHANTS TO CLOSE FOR FAIRPublic Schools Will Also Cease Activity on Tuesday, Wednesday

In compliance with Mayor Harry Erikson's proclamation asking that all places of business be closed next Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 12 and 13, in observance of the twenty-second annual showing of the Schoolcraft County Free Fair all local grocery and meat markets yesterday agreed to cease business operations from 1 to 5 p. m. on the above days, thereby giving employees an opportunity to witness what is expected to be the greatest fair in the history of the county. Other merchants and business places, while having taken no collective action on the matter, will doubtless observe the above closing hours.

Public schools of the city will also cease school activities on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, according to an announcement made yesterday by Superintendent A. F. Hall. This will give students and pupils a chance to witness two complete changes of program.

In accordance with the city school closings, it is believed that rural schools will do likewise. In as much as cities such as Newberry, Gladstone, Escanaba, Munising, etc., will have no fair this year, it is predicted that the Schoolcraft fair will draw largely from these places to swell the attendance to record heights.

Complete fair programs with the Triangle Ranch Rodeo heading the list of stellar attractions, have been completed Tuesday afternoon and will be given over to a comprehensive sports program featuring baseball, diamond ball, horse racing, acrobatic stunts, etc., while the following two days will be devoted to the wild west rodeo, a unique cowboy demonstration of hard riding and battle punching interspersed with many thrilling exhibitions of technical skill which will recall the early frontier days of "the wild and woolly west." Performances will be given both afternoon and evening.

Monday is listed as entry day and all entries are required to be in either Monday or Tuesday with the deadline set for noon on the latter day. Lee Stewart, county agricultural agent is handling the agricultural and livestock exhibits.

Entries in the popularity contest are progressing favorably and indications are that the winners will have piled up huge votes in the ticket selling contest which will be checked up Thursday evening when the winners will be announced. A. F. Hall and R. H. Wilson have been selected to tally the votes.

Manistique School Enrollment Shows Slight Decrease
Enrollment figures for the city public schools show a slight decrease as compared with those of 1932, according to an announcement made yesterday morning by A. F. Hall, superintendent of schools, who stated that total registration numbers, 146, in comparison to 137 in the third week of school in 1932. This year enrollment is expected to increase to some extent by the entrance of a few additional pupils next week and also with the enrollment of graduate students, to place the membership around the 400 mark in the high school.

The smaller enrollment this year is due, in the main, to a falling off in high school students while grade school enrollment has remained practically the same. The decrease in the number of high school students is due to the smaller number of graduate students to be enrolled and also somewhat to the fact that no free transportation is being offered to students living in rural communities this year.

During the third week of school, 1932 high school enrollment totaled 439 as compared with 486 during the first week of school this year. Membership by grade thus far is as follows: ninth—109; tenth—107; eleventh—91; twelfth—78.

Grade school enrollment is only nine less than in 1932, the total number this year being 771. Distribution of grade school students according to schools is as follows:

1932	1933
Riverside	65
Lakeside	182
Central	262
Lincoln	294

The large decrease in the enrollment of the Riverside school is due to the transfer of first and second grade pupils to Lincoln school where enrollment has somewhat fallen off.

Impressive Service Held Yesterday For Mrs. Austin Fydel
Last sad rites were held Thursday afternoon for Mrs. Austin Fydel, respected pioneer resident of this city who passed away at her home early Monday morning following a three week illness. A short service was held at the First Presbyterian church at three o'clock with Rev. Delloyd Huetten officiating. Interment was made in Lakeview cemetery with Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, in charge.

Pallbearers were John H. Hewitt, John Givins, Fred McNamara,

Frank Merwin, Fred Monroe, and Isaac Pawley.

CALL MEETING OF TEACHERS

Plans for School Year
Will Be Outlined at Gathering Today

A general meeting of Gladstone public school teachers will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of Supt. A. R. Watson in the junior high school. It was announced yesterday by Mr. Watson, for the purpose of outlining the program for the coming year and getting ready for the opening of school on Monday.

Practically every out-of-town member of the faculty has returned to Gladstone during the past week and a full attendance is anticipated.

Monday will be devoted mainly to organization of classes, furnishing students with books and supplies, and other details that attend the opening day.

The county teachers' institute, an annual event, will be held on Monday at Escanaba and an opportunity will be given teachers to attend. On the program will be Dr. Russell Lawrence, president of Lawrence Institute of Technology, Detroit, Dr. H. L. Turner, director of rural education at Ypsilanti state normal college, and a number of others.

Financing of the schools until new taxes start coming in to the treasury will depend on Gladstone's share of the 13 million dollar primary school melon which is to be distributed in the state by Sept. 25, the major portion of last year's Turner money which is still due, and collection of delinquent taxes.

PUSHES CART FROM COAST

Itinerant Sign Painter
Reaches Gladstone
from San Diego

Providing the motive power for the strangerest looking push-cart that ever has been seen in these parts, Charles Wettstein, about 30, was discovered trudging along Highway US-2 and 41 Thursday night enroute from San Diego, Calif., to Montreal, Canada.

He left the west coast over ten months ago and said he ought to wind up in Montreal in about two months, but he's not particular about the time of arrival as he has more time than anything else. Asked where he was going to stop, Wettstein stated, "The next big town." However, as he travels almost entirely at night and was not located in the city yesterday, it was concluded that he pushed on through Gladstone.

But it's the vehicle and not the man that draws the major share of interest.

Mounted on lawn mower wheels the push cart, about three feet high, is equipped with two headlights and a lantern in front, and a red tail light and a rear view mirror behind. Travel is always on the left hand edge of the road, against traffic.

Displays Blue Eagle. A wooden framework over the axle provides room for a suitcase, blanket roll, automobile storage battery for the lights and also three spare wheels. A beer sign graces one side of the body while on the other he carries the blue eagle of the NRA. He explained the latter by saying that as far as hours were concerned he was complying and even going them one better. Over the wheels are brightly painted homemade fenders, partially covered with rubber matting such as used on running boards.

From one of the two wooden handles dangles a small tin pail in which Wettstein carries his tools for making repairs and improvements on his push cart, and on a platform between the tonneau is an oil can that the owner says he uses to "keep the wheels from getting too hot during a hard run."

Notwithstanding, a sign painter by trade, carries his tools and paints along with him and picks up odd jobs along the way. When he left San Diego he carried skis for use in the mountains, but he discarded them long ago. Since he has worn out, according to his own figures, some 65 lawn mower wheels.

Wettstein says he's in no hurry to get to his destination and apparently it's true for most places he stops he spends some time fishing and "resting."

Liberty Is Named Reserve Officer

Clifford P. Liberty of this city, student at Michigan State college, has been appointed a second lieutenant in the cavalry of the reserve corps at the East Lansing school. It was learned yesterday through a news dispatch. Other officers of the reserve corps also received their appointments at the same time.

Liberty is the son of Philip J. Liberty, 1416 Delta avenue.

All Saints Ladies To Conduct Bazaar

Plans for a bazaar to be sponsored by the ladies of All Saints' Catholic church are now being made. The event will be held, probably about the second week of October, in the parish hall in the church. Fancy work, sewing and baking will be sold and premiums donated by various business firms will be offered at the fair.

The maintenance of peace and order is the first duty of government and if this duty is not performed by the states, society will eventually place it in the hands of a government that will perform it.

Conservation Camps Are Being Prepared For Winter Months

Although no word has been received as to whether the Civilian Conservation Corps encamped at Garth will remain for the winter, some work on quarters is being done so that if the camp is extended an extra six months, cold weather will not catch them unprepared. Other camps in the peninsula are also planning preparation of winter quarters.

Several frame buildings have already been constructed at Garth. Enclosed cook camps and sleeping camps, similar to those used by the old lumbering concerns of the peninsula, are planned.

THEATRES

An unusual entertainment will be seen at the Rialto Theatre tonight and Sunday with the presentation of "Broadway Vanities," a musical comedy revue with a cast of 25 artists.

First presentation of the Vanities will be at a special 11 o'clock show tonight. A screen feature, "Sailor's Luck," starring Sally Eilers and James Dunn, will be shown at this time. The story leans more to comedy than any previous team picture of the well-known screen pair. It concerns a bunch of gobs on shore-leave and their romantic adventures while "dame-chasing."

Broadway Vanities provides a varied entertainment. In it are dancing specialties, girl choruses, music, comedy and a number of specialties. A number of artists of Broadway fame will be seen, including Ferris and Ray, Gino and Nitz, Toraz, Harry Richards and with the red hot feet, the Albee Sisters and the Ritz-Carlton orchestra.

"Man of the Forest," twenty-four of Zane Grey's stories, to reach the screen, will be shown today at the regular performances both afternoon and evening. Randolph Scott, Harry Carey, Noah Berry, Verna Hillie and Buster Crabbe play the leading roles.

Like all of Zane Grey's stories, "Man of the Forest" is crisscrossed from start to finish with brisk action. There is plenty of hard hand-to-hand combat and a good deal of comedy and romantic interest.

Mission Festival Will Be Held Here

Tigers Take Two, 4-3; Hubbell Wins for Giants

RED SOX GIVEN DOUBLE DEFEAT

Bridges Has Bad First Inning in Opener, But Comes Back

Boston, Sept. 8 (AP)—By identical scores, 4 to 3, the Detroit Tigers took a doubleheader from the Boston Red Sox today.

In the first game, Tommy Bridges, Tiger hurler, had to live down the effects of a bad first inning in which he walked three men, two of them scoring with the aid of an error by Bridges and a bunt by Dusty Cooke.

In the second game, Fred Marberry was lifted for a pinch batter in the sixth, although he had allowed no runs and only two hits up to that time. The Tigers were leading, 1 to 0. Marvin Owen, the pinch hitter, walked.

After his bad start, Bridges was master of the situation in the opener until Smead Jolley got a homer in the ninth. Bridges allowed eight hits.

Greenberg continued his hitting, getting two singles and a double, out of four trips to the plate, and scoring one run. The Tigers were first to score in the aftermath tally in the third on Pete Fox's triple and Gehring's out. They got two more in the sixth when Rogell doubled with the bases filled. The Sox tied the count in the eighth with a three-run attack on Auker, who replaced Marberry, but a single by Fox and a double by Gehring in the ninth won the game.

Hogsett, who relieved Auker during the eighth inning out-break, held the one-run lead in the final inning.

Lightweight Champ Near Pink For His Fight Next Tuesday

Lake Swannaport, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—Near his fighting peak and with his weight down to 137½ pounds, only two and a half over the class limit, Barney Ross, world lightweight champion, today took things easy in preparation for his title defense against Tony Canzoneri in the Polo grounds Tuesday night.

The Chicago youngster was on the trail for a two mile jog early in the day and spent the rest of the time fishing in the lake and resting in his cabin.

"I'm ready for Canzoneri," Barney said as he stepped on the scales. "I'm going to set a fast pace from the start and expect to hurt Tony with plenty of punches."

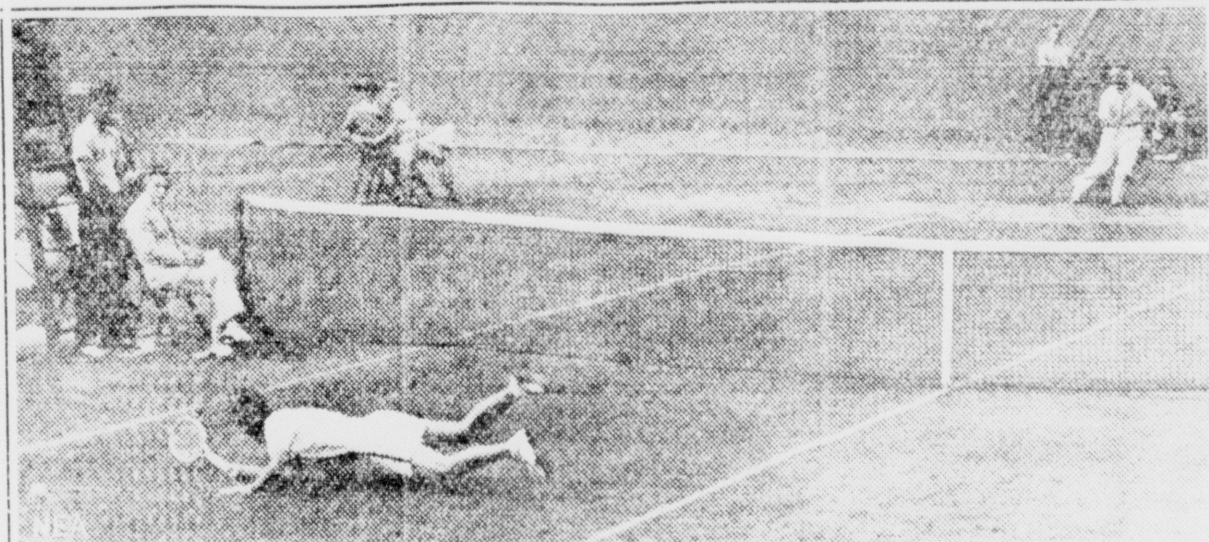

The fight will be Ross' first defense of the title which he won from Canzoneri on a disputed decision in Chicago July 23.

Judges Call Draw In Petrolle Bout

Boston, Sept. 8 (AP)—Billy Petrolle, the flashy Fargo Express, gave Sammy Fuller, Boston welterweight, an artistic boxing lesson in the Boston garden's 10-round feature tonight without impressing the two judges, whose votes resulted in the contest being declared a draw. Petrolle, who weighed 142, four pounds more than the Bostonian, appeared outclassed only in the ninth round.

A Texas Star Goes Down... In Straight Sets

Manuel Alonso, Spanish Davis Cup star of 15 years ago, showed he hadn't lost any of his old-time form when he beat Berkeley Bell, Texas flash, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, in the national singles championship tournament at Forest Hills, N. Y. Here Bell goes flat trying to reach one of Alonso's well-placed drives.

Green Bay Will Have Twin Bill In Sports Sunday

Green Bay, Wis.—Football and baseball fans from all parts of Wisconsin and upper Michigan are expected to flock here Sunday for a doubleheader sport card featuring the opening appearance of the Green Bay Packers squad in an inter-club game and the first contest of the State league baseball championship series between Green Bay and Wisconsin Rapids.

The gridiron contest will bring together the Packer veterans and yearlings will get underway at 2 p. m. sharp at the City stadium while the ball game is booked for Green Sox park, which is only five minutes' walk from the football field. The initial tilt of the "little world series" is to start at 4 p. m. With this schedule it will be possible for the sport enthusiasts to attend both engagements.

Bargain Day Prices

Both contests are at "bargain day" prices and it will cost less to see the sport doubleheader than the usual price of admission to a National Football league engagement.

The inter-club football game has created a lot of interest. The Packers have been working out since Monday and some of the recruits have been stepping around splendidly in practice. Of course, the veterans still think they have considerable edge but the yearlings may hand them the surprise of their lives in Sunday's engagement.

All-American Tackles

In Joe Kuth and Jess Quatse, the recruits have a pair of all-American tackles. Ben Smith was an all-southern end at Alabama while Buster Mott, Georgia, and Bob Monnett, Michigan State, were among the best halfbacks in college circles last fall.

Lavie Dilweg, Clark Hinkle, Mike Michalske, Roger Grove, Hank Brader and Hardie McGraw will be among the Packers' old timers out there fighting to keep the youngsters in their place.

Stick To Boxing, Leonard's Advice To Tony Canzoneri

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—A former holder of the lightweight title, Benny Leonard, today dropped in at Tony Canzoneri's training camp to watch the latter prepare for his 15-round title fight with Champion Barney Ross and expressed the opinion that Tony would do better if he went back to boxing and his opponents.

"Tony is as clever a boxer as he wants to be," Leonard said as he watched the dethroned champion carrying with him, "and he has been trying to knock out his opponents. He shouldn't do that with Ross or he is liable to find himself outboxed by the fast, clever and youthful champion."

Canzoneri boxed five rounds, two each with George Reiley and Lou Lombardi and one with Al Santora. He also punched the bag and skipped the rope for a time. It was his last hard workout and he will gradually taper off on his work until he leaves for New York Monday to wait the going in the Polo grounds next Tuesday night.

Yanks Pound Third Victory On Browns With Van Atta Up

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—Russell Van Atta, making his first start since his recent illness, held the St. Louis Browns to four hits while the Yankees pounded out their third straight victory 5 to 3 today.

Van Atta allowed only one safety up to the eighth. Then singles by Gullie and Hemsley and a pass to West loaded the sacks and Carl Reynolds cleared them with a triple for all the St. Louis runs.

TENNIS GIANTS IN SEMI-FINAL

Stoefen Beats Georgia Bantam as Perry Trims Quist

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Two young American tennis giants fought their way to the semi-finals of the national men's singles championship today and carry the last hopes of the home guard against the challenge of two of the world's finest shot-makers, Frederick J. Perry, Britain's Davis cup hero, and Jack Crawford, Australia's all-conquering ace.

Lester Stoefen, blond Californian who towers 6 feet 3½ inches and enters the semi-finals for the first time in his short career, plays the brilliant Perry tomorrow while Frank X. Shields, the equally towering New Yorker, meets the great Crawford in two international battles that will put both American youths to the severest tests.

Stoefen gave an excited gallery of 10,000 spectators their biggest moments of an over-heated day by outlasting Bryan (Bills) Grant, Jr., the scrappy Atlantan bantam who ended the reign of champion Ellsworth Vines yesterday. But Perry and Crawford, lashed by far the most impressive tennis of the quarter-final round.

Stoefen took Grant's measure in a rough-and-tumble "David and Goliath" duel decided by scores of 8-6, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, and with the result in doubt right up to the finish despite the Los Angeles star's marked physical advantages.

Perry trounced Adrian Quist, the handsome young Australian who conquered Wilmer Allison, with a magnificent brand of tennis, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0.

Crawford administered a tennis lesson to Clifford B. Suttler of New Orleans, third ranking American, to the tune of 6-2, 6-5, 6-1, and the issue was never in doubt.

The powerful Shields, despite some trouble with his booming service, bombarded his way to victory in the other quarter-final over the resolute Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., national indoor titleholder, by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Thus, the tournament lines were drawn for two duels of tennis styles as far apart as the pole. Shields packs more dynamite than Stoefen in his strokes and has much more experience to his credit, although both are only 23 years old. Perry is only 24 and Crawford at 25 is nearing the climax of his greatest season.

Last Game Proves Win For Johnson, Dodgers Victims

Cincinnati, Sept. 8 (AP)—Silo Johnson, who hadn't been credited with a victory since May 26, set down the Brooklyn Dodgers with six hits today and the Reds won the final game of the season between the clubs 12 to 0.

Cincinnati made his victory sure by whaling Hollis Thurston for five runs on five hits, a pass and an error after two were out in the third. They scored six more in the seventh off Rossy Bill Ryan.

Score by innings:

Brooklyn 000 000 000—0 6 6

Los Angeles Gets Track And Field Classic For 1934

Los Angeles, Sept. 8 (AP)—The University of Southern California today accepted the invitation of the National Collegiate Athletic Association to stage the annual track and field championships here June 22 and 23, 1934.

To stage the classic, which has been a fixture in Chicago's sport calendar, the Trojan institution promised to underwrite the expense of putting on the contest and also guaranteed a stipulated fund, announced to pay the expenses of the outstanding athletes of the

Scoring Is Lowest In History; Kozak Leads 112 Golfers

BY GEORGE R. LOVEYS
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Country Club, Glens Falls, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Duplicating his brilliant two under par 69 of the first round, Walter Kozak of Flushing, L. I., today led 112 golfers through a second round of the fifth annual Glens Falls open which saw an orgy of the lowest scoring in the tournament's history.

Kozak's spectacular round which included six birdies enabled him to nose out Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I., pace setter yesterday with a 68, by a single stroke.

Hines, needing a par 3 to tie Kozak for the lead was trapped on the home green and went one over to take a 71 and 139 for the 36 holes.

Ralph Coudahl, long driving St. Louis professional who was runner-up to Johnny Goodman in the national open and one of the favorites in this three day classic, shot a 69, one of the eight sub par rounds of the day, to stand alone in third place with 142.

He had a mediocre 73 yesterday. Four were tied at 143, Johnny Farrell, former national open titleholder, who added a 68 to his 75 of yesterday, Al Houghton of Bethesda, Md., who had rounds of 70 and 73, Bill Melhorn of Brooklyn with 72 and 71 and Joe Brennan of Amherst, Pa., with rounds of 69 and 74.

MANAGER SETS PACE ON HITS

Miss Ridley meets Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., tomorrow for the title now held by Mrs. Elsa Goldsack Pittman of London, who is not defending.

Miss Francis, former member of the nation's first ten in women's tennis, put out the fourth favorite, Eunice Dean, of San Antonio, Texas, in the other semi-finals.

Cochet Announces He's Turned Pro, Signs With Tilden

Paris, Sept. 8 (AP)—Henri Cochet, famous French tennis star, formally announced tonight he had turned professional and signed a contract with Big Bill Tilden.

Cochet's announcement, made to sports writers, definitely ended all speculation as to what the former world's champion would do. He will make his pro debut here in the Franco-American series starting Sept. 23 when he and Martin Flia will represent the tri-color against Tilden and Bruce Barnes.

Cochet had declared yesterday that he would play in the series but would not accept pay for his services and thus he insisted would retain his amateur status.

To that Pierre Gillou, president of the French tennis federation, declared Henri automatically would forfeit his amateur standing by appearing in a match with professionals for which admission was charged.

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy hitting marked the Big Six program yesterday with every member except Lou Gehrig getting two hits, and Wes Schulmerich received some extra benefit when a muffed infield play of the figures added another hit to his total. This sent his average a point above Chick Harley's and gave him an undisputed hold on the last place in the sextet. Chuck Klein, Spud Davis and Heinie Manush gained a point apiece while Gehrig and Jimmie Fox, who walloped his 42nd homer, held their averages even.

CORSAIR HOPES GROW SLIMMER

New York Loses Series, 3 and 2; Win Final Game 2 and 1

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8 (AP)—Carl Hubbell pulled the New York Giants' faltering fortunes back in safer regions today and the National league leaders increased their lead to 9 1-2 games by beating the Pirates 2 to 1 in the final game of their series.

The Giants lost the series 3 to 2 but the final triumph quenched a good many of the Pirate hopes of beating out the New Yorkers in the pennant race. The Corsairs have only 21 more games to play and on which to overcome a 6 1-2 game lead even though the league leaders still face the remainder of a hard western tour.

Young Hal Smith, who has the best record among the Pirate pitchers, opposed the Giants' star outpunch. He pitched well enough for most occasions but couldn't keep up to Hubbell. The Giants set a run in the third, aided by an error by Pie Traynor, and that was the margin by which they won. Hubbell hurled five straight hitless innings through the middle of the game, had only one weak session and pitched his way out of difficulty in a brilliant fashion then. It was his 21st victory of the year.

The first Giant tally came after two were out in the third. Joe Moore beat out a scratch single to Traynor and went on to second when Pie heaved the ball past first. Hughie Critz scored him with a single through the middle of the diamond.

In the seventh, George Davis opened with a double, the only extra base blow of the game, moved to third when Gus Mancuso laid down a sacrifice and tallied after Blondy Ryan hoisted a long fly to Lindstrom.

The Bucco got a runner to third in the opening inning and collected a pair of hits in the second. Then Hubbell, who was knocked out in the first game of the series Tuesday, bore down and didn't give another blow up to the eighth.

Score by innings:

New York 001 000 100—2 7 0
Pittsburgh 000 000 100—1 6 1

Finals Are Today In Women's Tennis

Philadelphia, Sept. 8 (AP)—Joan Ridley, of Ipswich, England, today entered the final round of the women's middle states tennis championship for the third successive year by defeating Anne Page, of suburban Merion, 6-0, 6-3, in the semi-finals.

Miss Ridley meets Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., tomorrow for the title now held by Mrs. Elsa Goldsack Pittman of London, who is not defending.

Miss Francis, former member of the nation's first ten in women's tennis, put out the fourth favorite, Eunice Dean, of San Antonio, Texas, in the other semi-finals.

Cochet Announces He's Turned Pro, Signs With Tilden

Paris, Sept. 8 (AP)—Henri Cochet, famous French tennis star, formally announced tonight he had turned professional and signed a contract with Big Bill Tilden.

Cochet's announcement, made to sports writers, definitely ended all speculation as to what the former world's champion would do. He will make his pro debut here in the Franco-American series starting Sept. 23 when he and Martin Flia will represent the tri-color against Tilden and Bruce Barnes.

Cochet had declared yesterday that he would play in the series but would not accept pay for his services and thus he insisted would retain his amateur status.

To that Pierre Gillou, president of the French tennis federation, declared Henri automatically would forfeit his amateur standing by appearing in a match with professionals for which admission was charged.

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy hitting marked the Big Six program yesterday with every member except Lou Gehrig getting two hits, and Wes Schulmerich received some extra benefit when a muffed infield play of the figures added another hit to his total. This sent his average a point above Chick Harley's and gave him an undisputed hold on the last place in the sextet. Chuck Klein, Spud Davis and Heinie Manush gained a point apiece while Gehrig and Jimmie Fox, who walloped his 42nd homer, held their averages even.

Bout Is Arranged To Pick Opponent For Jack Sharkey

New York, Sept. 8 (AP)—John R. Kilpatrick, new president of Madison Square Garden, today said a heavyweight match had been arranged between Patsy Perrone, of Cleveland and Dan McCordindale, of South Africa, for Oct. 9, with the winner to meet Jack Sharkey in the Garden Oct. 20.

Efforts, however, to sign Max Baer for a heavyweight title match with Primo Carnera next June have not got far. Kilpatrick admitted, Baer, now in California, is committed to box for Jack Dempsey, who promoted the match here in which Baer knocked out Max Schmeling. Carnera is under contract to the Garden.

Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, received word from the boxer in Germany today that a match with Paulino Uzcudun in Amsterdam had been abandoned because Paulino had decided to fight Carnera in Rome in October. Schmeling plans to return here for a bout with Sharkey in New York for Jack in December. Jacobs refuses to let his man fight for the Garden as long as James J. Johnston is the matchmaker there.

Ingot Production At 49% Capacity

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Steel ingot production in the United States during August, as estimated by the American Iron and Steel Institute, was at 49.42 per cent of capacity.

This was a substantial reduction from the July rate of 58.95 per cent, but with the exception of that month, August was the best since April of 1931. The level of operations last month showed a striking gain over August of 1932, when the rate dropped to 14.50 per cent, the lowest in the history of this tabulation.

Actual ingot production for the month was placed at 2,900,611 tons, against 3,203,819 in July and only 846,703 in August of 1932.

For the first eight months of this year, the institute calculated production at 15,992,613 tons, or more than for the entire year of 1932, when production was 13,322,833. In the first eight months of 1932, the total was only 9,350,662.

Stan Phillips of the San Mateo, Cal., Blues semi-pro team, has signed a contract with the Detroit Tigers and will report to Shreveport, the Tigers' southern league baseball farm, to finish the season.

CUBS CONTINUE RUSH FOR FLAG

Beat Braves, 8 to 3, and Sweep Series; Bush Goes Route

Chicago, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, continuing their desperate though belated bid to retain their National league aureole, ran their winning streak to five straight today by sweeping the three game set from the Boston Braves, 8 to 3. It was the seventh straight defeat for the Braves.

Gay Bush went the route against four Boston pitchers to turn in his 17th victory of the season. He was reached for eight hits, half of them by Baxter Jordan who had a home run, a double and two singles for a perfect day at the plate.

Offers Bid of $40,300.16
on Marquette County Project

The Bacco Construction company submitted the lowest of three bids for the 21-foot two-course gravel relocation project in Republic and Humboldt townships of Marquette county. Bids were opened at the office of Ben Sparks, district highway engineer, in Escanaba yesterday.

The bids were as follows: Bacco Construction company, Iron Mountain, $40,300.16; L. L. Whitehead, Sault Ste. Marie, $48,520.94; and Peterson Construction company, Minneapolis, $52,084.04.

The gravel job will extend for a distance of 7.619 miles, south of Republic.

No word has been received as to when the Gladstone to Nahma Junction highway paving project will be advertised for bids.

AMUSEMENTS

"A Kiss Before the Mirror" and "Diplomats" will be shown again in the double feature program at the Delt Theatre.

Seldom does Escanaba have such a cinematic treat as that provided by Universal's "The Kiss Before the Mirror". This film has more drama, human interest and art packed in its reels than any film received in recent months.

High drama occurs in the court room as the wronged husband makes the plea for his client, trying at the same time his wife, who sits in the gallery. An astounding climax entirely too good to give away takes place, with the denouement pointing that unfaithfulness is no more guilty than a sense of vanity posing as love.

Nancy Carroll is the epitome of feminine loveliness, as the lawyer's wife, and Frank Morgan of the stage, gives a superb performance hard to match. Paul Lukas, Gloria Stuart, Jean Dixon, Charles Grapewin and Walter Pidgeon are excellently cast as well in this unique film.

AT LAGOON BEACH

A dance will be held at Lagoon Beach Sunday evening, September 10, with music by the Rambling Cow Boys, six-piece orchestra. The public is invited.

Retired Engineer, Former Resident, Is Visitor Here

Thomas Foulkes, for many years engaged as a locomotive engineer for the Northern Western road running out of this city and who was pensioned two and a half years ago, is visiting with old friends in the city. Mr. Foulkes ran an engine out of Escanaba on the Peninsula division for many years and about 15 years ago was transferred to South Pekin, Ill. He reached the age of retirement two and a half years ago and has since made his home at Alexandria, Cal.

Rain Helps Fight Marsh Fire Along The Tahquamenon

Newberry, Sept. 8.—One inch of rain fell all over the district early on Friday morning giving conservation officials a chance to get the Tahquamenon marsh fire, which has raged since Sunday, under control. The flames ravaged a large territory of marsh land, the size being unknown at this writing, as the country is unusually wild and there are no trails, roads nor fire lines.

More than 100 C. C. C. men from the Newberry camp directed by Superintendent Dale and local conservation officials have been fighting the flames all this week. On Friday morning all of the tower men and special wardens from Seney, Blaney and Grand Marais together with local officers and about 40 C. C. C. men are on the job, the aim being to put the fire out with cutting and covering. About noon on Thursday the fire broke all lines and started up in a dozen places, the flames being easily seen from town. No timber has been burned, only a little second growth was touched and the Newberry Chemical Company's slash to the south and the Cleveland Cliff's fine timber stand to the north were untouched.

GEORGE ZINKER RITES

Six sons of George Zinker will bear his body to the final resting place on Sunday afternoon, the services to be held from the Methodist Episcopal church with Rev. J. J. Pacey officiating and burial taking place in Forest Home cemetery.

George Zinker died in Lansing on September 3 following a stroke. He was 67 years of age and lived in Newberry from 1883 to 1914 leaving here to go to Lansing where he has resided since and where his wife died eight years ago.

Mr. Zinker leaves two brothers, Max and Barney of Newberry and a sister, Mrs. Emma Paille who lives in Washington. His six sons are George Jr., Clarence, Albert, Sidney and Ernest, all of Lansing, and William of Comings, Michigan and three daughters, Mrs. Warren Westell and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Newberry and Mrs. Earl Hunter of Lansing. He also leaves 31 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. The body arrived in Newberry on September 7 and was taken to the Beaulieu undertaking establishment.

NEWBERRY LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. John Rimpella and daughters Jean and Shirley of South Range have returned to their home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor visited on Thursday evening with her parents in McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hoig.

Mrs. Paul Barrett of Monroe called here by the death of her father, Mr. Charles Anderson, will remain here for a few days, and may not return to her home until next week some time.

Miss Dolores McLean submitted to the removal of her tonsils at the local hospital on Friday.

FITZGERALD HERE SUNDAY

An informal reception will be tendered to Frank D. Fitzgerald on Sunday, according to the plans being now formulated under the direction of A. L. Sayles. The reception will doubtless be held at the Newberry hotel and its nature will depend upon the hour at which the secretary of state arrives. Because of the generally accepted

GARDEN CLUBS EXHIBIT TODAY

Vegetable Show To Be Held at Junior High School

The annual vegetable show of the 4H Garden clubs of Escanaba will be held in the biology room of the junior high school building this morning. Exhibits will be in place at 9:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has donated a sum of $18.75 for prize money. Judging will be done by Joseph E. Turner, county agricultural agent. Each exhibit must be accompanied by a report and story of the summer's work. The exhibitor winning the most honors will be proclaimed the 4H Garden club champion of Escanaba.

The community garden project was launched during the world war days, and has been continued on during the years as a 4H club movement. Henry Wylie, Smith-Hughes agricultural instructor at the Escanaba public schools, is in charge of the vegetable show.

TAX PENALTY BEGINS FRIDAY

Four Per Cent Will Be Charged On and After Sept. 15

The four per cent penalty charge on city taxes will go into effect, according to the law, on Sept. 15. It was announced yesterday by City Manager T. F. Kessler.

The city tax levy this year totaled $121,895.49 and up to yesterday only $25,319.97 had been collected by the city treasurer, or 20.8 per cent collection.

No School Monday Due To Institute

There will be no classes in the Escanaba public schools on Monday, Sept. 11, E. Cheney announced Friday. Sessions are being discontinued for the day because of the annual Delta County Teachers' Institute, which will be held Monday in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Escanaba Junior high school.

U. P. Briefs

Carpenters Under Code.

Iron River—Carpenters of the west side organized at a meeting in the city hall last night, and pledged their support to the industrial code as soon as it is approved.

The organization will be known as the Iron County Carpenters' association. East side tradesmen will be asked to join. The officers are William Jacobson, president; David Erickson, vice president; and John Baker, secretary-treasurer. Twenty-eight attended the initial meeting. The next gathering will be held on September 20.

James Sherman Dies.

Menominee—Death claimed James Arthur Sherman, well known resident of this city, at 2:30 o'clock this morning in the University hospital at Ann Arbor where he submitted to an operation for removal of a brain tumor. Mr. Sherman had been in the hospital since August 29.

He was born in Menominee, May 25, 1880, a son of James C. and Mary Helen Sherman. He was in the employ of the Michigan Bell Telephone company for 25 years and in June, 1921, he engaged in the electrical business in this city, which he continued until he became ill five years ago.

Successful Season.

Menominee, Mich.—Henry A. Perry, director of publicity for Mackinac Island during the 1933 season which closed with Labor Day, has returned to his home here for a rest before leaving for southern Michigan on an extended publicity campaign.

Mr. Perry staged the re-enactment of the massacre of the British garrison in 1763 at old Fort Michilimackinac by Indians at the rebuilt stockade at Mackinaw City for its official opening July 1, by Governor Comstock. He also staged the Fourth of July celebration on Mackinac Island and the several historical and spectacular programs that featured the four days celebration beginning July 1 with the re-enacted massacre at Mackinaw City and the remaining three days on Mackinac Island.

Get Ford Camp Photos

Marquette—If, as reported yesterday in Big Bay, Henry Ford leaves his Huron Mountain lodge today for Detroit, it is probable that the persistent group of newspaper writers and motion picture cameramen will be forced to depart after eight days' of unsuccessful attempts to get an interview for the press and news reels from the auto king on his attitude toward the NRA code.

As for the newspaper men, the sum total of the long effort has been Ford's terse statement, "I have nothing to say," and a second, handed report, said to have come from Ford's Huron Mountain associates, that the manufacturer is in general accord with the NRA movement, but is not satisfied with the automobile code.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Educational Broadcast—George F. Zook, U. S. commissioner of education, will speak on the subject of "Emergency in Education" over a NBC radio network 6:30 p. m. (C. S. T.) Monday, Sept. 11.

Kiwanis Meeting—George Jermaine of Escanaba, who spent three years as a mining engineer for the Soviet Russian government, will be the principal speaker at the next meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel, Monday noon. He will tell of social and economic conditions in that country.

Case Postponed—The cases of Chester Tuyls and Howard Schire, Cornell, charged with felonious assault in connection with the death of Laverne Daniels, C. C. C. camp member, has been postponed for hearing until Sept. 15. The hearings were to have been held before Justice of the Peace Ranguette today.

Eight presidents of the United States have been members of the American Philosophical Society, oldest learned society in America.

LOCAL PUPILS NUMBER 2877

Tuition Students from Outside Districts Also Increase

Attendance in the Escanaba public schools totaled 2877 yesterday, the end of the first week of school. Supt. R. E. Cheney reports. This compares with 2851 at the end of the first week one year ago and 2754 two years ago.

Enrollment in the senior high school has increased by 135 over the figure of two years ago, and in the junior high school by 62.

Preliminary figures indicate that there will be 137 tuition students from other school districts this year, as compared with 107 last year. The tuition fees for outside students are: Senior high school, $60 annually; ninth grade, $45; seventh and eighth grades, $45; and sixth grade and below, $30.
